

KUHLMANN OPENS GERMAN "PEACE OFFENSIVE;" ITALIANS ADVANCE BEYOND THEIR FORMER LINES

FOUR DAYS TO PASS BILLS FOR 20 BILLIONS

Appropriation Bills Must Pass This Week Or Emergency Measures Must be Adopted.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—With only four legislative days remaining before the opening of the new fiscal year, seven important appropriation bills, carrying over $20,000,000,000 today awaited final action by congress.

The $12,000,000,000 army appropriation bill, and the emergency food production act are still before the senate and have not yet been sent to conference. The naval appropriation bill, the postoffice bill are all hung up in conference.

The failure of congress to place any one of these bills before the president for his signature before Saturday night would compel the passage of emergency resolutions to permit continued operation of the department affected until the measure could be enacted into law.

Many Questions of Import.

Involved in the seven appropriation bills still delayed are many questions of national and local import, not the least of which is war time prohibition. During the remaining days the two houses must strike an even keel with the senate that yesterday when the senate passed the $2,000,000,000 sundry civil bill in an hour and a half and the house approved the $5,000,000,000 fortifications bill at one sitting.

Both the senate and the house seized the opportunity presented in the army appropriation bill to tack on tag ends of minor military legislation that had been crowded out all season. This fact presents no special difficulties, but the Fall and France amendments broadening the draft ages, which now are before the senate for action, have created a situation that may make passage of the bill in the remaining four days impossible.

No Difficulties With Some.

The only appropriation bills still unacted upon which there are no serious difficulties between the two houses are the fortifications bill and the civil sundry bill. The first should be passed by the senate as soon as it is called up and approval of the conference report on the second will be a mere formality.

These are the bills over which controversy is expected: the agricultural, naval and postoffice appropriation measures and the emergency food production act. Although the last carries the smallest appropriation it presents the most difficult problem. The senate agricultural committee was conducting a hearing today in a frenzied effort to decide whether it shall be reported to the upper house carrying a straight war time prohibition provision. This question arose over the action of the house in adopting the Randall amendment to the bill.

CLEVELAND WOMEN AID IN TRACKING DOWN GERMAN SPIES IN CITY

International News Service.
CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—Several Cleveland women have enlisted as spy hunters in their city and are reported as being successful. Two of them especially are today looked upon with favor by the American Protective league, which employed them. The two women in question brought in one Eugene J. Kutz, who is alleged to have bragged about being a German and that he would never fight for Uncle Sam.

The two women spies went to Kutz's home and by pretending that they sought to employ him are said to have worked into the confidence of the man.

The women spies use their own automobiles and are at the beck of the authorities at any time.

WARN NATION AGAINST HOPE OF QUICK PEACE

Washington Does Not Discount Austrian Rout But Urges Conservative Optimism Over Prospects.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—While in no way discounting the widespread disaffection throughout Austria with the possibility that the effectiveness of the dual empire as a factor in the present war may be materially interfered with, officials today sounded a note of warning against any belief that peace is in sight.

Attention was called to the fact that the German military control over Austria remains as complete as ever. Complete collapse of Austria, officials familiar with the situation pointed out, would result in the downfall of Germany. Because of this it is believed here in the capital that Germany will insist that Emperor Charles put down the internal rioting with an iron hand. If necessary German troops of the veteran classes who are none too effective on the front firing lines will be sent into Austria, according to information reaching this city.

May Hasten Blow.

The effect of the rout of the Austrians by the Italians is expected to be a hastening of the next German blow in the west. All of the information reaching this city indicates that Ludendorff is strengthening his forces at several points and a new drive from one of these is looked for. If the army experts here have any idea where this blow is to be struck they decline to indicate. Naturally they still consider that the great German objective is the channel ports and they believe that all movements ordered by the German high command will be intended to carry out that objective if possible. However, they declare that the next German blow will find the entente and American forces in far better shape to receive it and insist that it will gain less territory than any of the movements attempted in the last three months.

Commenting on the Austrian rout, one of the highest officials in the war department today declared: "We have nothing more to fear on the Italian front. Austria is eliminated, insofar as any offensive fighting is concerned for the present, and we can now concentrate all of our attention on the western front."

CAILLAUX LIKELY TO BE TRIED FOR SEDITION

Living Wage is Standard For Street Railways

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The standards of the living wage must be the paramount consideration in the operation of street railways, and in all cases where the adjustment of wages through the standards adopted by the government are ordered, the companies must comply, even if they have to increase their fares. This is the dictum announced this afternoon by former President William Howard Taft and Frank P. Walsh, joint chairmen of the national war labor board, at the close of a hearing attended by the representatives of the 24 street railway companies and their attorneys.

It was intimated that Taft and Walsh would secure their demands by going before congress, if necessary and urging that the government assume federal regulation of street railways of the country, especially those that are in poor financial condition.

KAISER GETTING EXCUSES READY

Prepares People For Failure of 1918 Campaign, Washington Hears.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—Germany is preparing the people "back home" for an admission of failure of the entire 1918 campaign against the allies, according to confidential information received by the state department today.

The department withheld its source of information, but it made it plain that it was entirely authentic.

According to the report the German governmental agencies and newspapers are now engaged in making it plain to the people that certain developments very likely will make it impossible completely to overrun France this year as was promised last spring. However, these agencies are explaining that next year the situation will be much better from the standpoint of Germany and that then France will be overcome and England and America defeated.

The information also says that the German agents are making it plain that men released from the army this year will develop a new phase of submarine warfare, which will make the submarine a potent weapon to starve out England. In this connection captured documents taken from German officers dwell on the fact "after the war" Germany will be in much better shape to proceed to conquer Egypt and India. Just what is meant by "after the war" state department officials say they do not know.

DIVIDED ADVICE ON PROHIBITION

Hurley and Burleson Oppose It, Daniels Sees No Objection.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The administration today gave congress divided counsel on the Jones "bone dry" amendment.

Postmaster Gen. Burleson joined forces with Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the United States shipping board, in urging the defeat of the amendment, while Sec'y of the Navy Daniels, in the most emphatic language, testified to the excellent effect of prohibition in the navy and in navy ship yards.

"Don't experiment with a nation's destiny—don't take any chances," was Mr. Hurley's advice. "This is no time to have patience with fanatics—we must get down to hard cases," said Postmaster Gen. Burleson.

"Liquor never promoted efficiency anywhere," was Sec'y Daniels' statement.

Stimbridge Cully, member of the shipping board, recalled to the stand, reiterated his statement of last week to the effect that prohibition would cripple the shipping program.

PRES'T WILSON TO BARE POLICY TOWARD RUSSIA

Will Speak at Tomb of George Washington on Independence Day on World Situation.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—President Wilson will speak on Independence Day at the tomb of George Washington at Mount Vernon, Va. It was announced at the white house today. It was indicated that the president at that time would speak very frankly on the Russian situation, that he would take the people into his confidence on just what the policy of the United States will be toward the troubled republic.

To Discuss Turkey as Well.

It was also expected that he would deal with the Turkish situation in an equally frank manner—that in short he would take the entire international situation as it affects the allies in general and the United States in particular.

The program at the "shrine of American liberty" is being arranged by the committee on public information and will be attended by all of the allied and neutral diplomats and by official Washington. There will also be an elaborate musical program with John McCormack as the principal soloist.

DRAFT LOTTERY SET FOR THURSDAY

Date of Second Drawing is Changed by Provost Marshal Crowder.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The second draft lottery will be conducted at the capital Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. It was announced by the war department today. At that time the order numbers of the 744,865, 21-year-old registrants who enrolled on June 5, will be drawn.

Although one-tenth of the number will be drawn this year, it is expected that the draft will be marked with the same simple but impressive ceremony. Sec'y of War Baker, will Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder and members of the senate and house will be present.

PROPOSES CHANGE IN DRAFT AGES.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The proposal to change the draft age from 18 to 45 years of age held the center of interest when the senate resumed its session today. The proposal is in the form of an amendment to the army appropriations bill, offered by Sen. Fall of New Mexico, late yesterday. Immediately afterwards, the senate, in executive session, considered the proposed draft treaty with Great Britain and Canada.

The army appropriation bill, called up yesterday afternoon by Sen. Chamberlain, chairman, was again under consideration and most of the amendments added to the bill as it came from the house by the senate committee, had been accepted when Sen. Fall presented his amendment.

The senate then went into executive session without considering the amendment, which while changing the minimum age for liability to military service from 21 to 18 years, provides that no one shall be given service at the front until they become 21.

The draft was not mentioned in the army appropriation bill, the passage of which is likely to be delayed by consideration of this question. The appropriation bill carries approximately 12 billion dollars for the prosecution of the war.

Big Austrian Army Reported Trapped Facing Annihilation

International News Service.
The Italian armies on the Piave front are now advancing beyond the lines which they held before the Austro-Hungarian offensive began, 11 days ago.

Fighting continues with the Austro-Hungarian rear guard forces trying vainly to stem the Italian advance.

It is unofficially reported that a great Austro-Hungarian army has been cut off in the zone east of the Piave and that it must surrender or be annihilated.

Six thousand prisoners have been counted by the Italians up to date and huge stores of booty have been captured, including many Skoda guns.

Italian infantry and cavalry continue to pursue hotly the retreating Austrian armies, decimating the ranks that stand up to oppose them. "This, in fact, is Italy's day!"

Austria is Shaken.

In addition to the developments on the Italian front and the normal operations of a minor character that daily occur upon the western battlefield in France, it is interesting and pertinent at this time to consider the political and economic happenings in the countries of the German alliance, all of which have a certain bearing upon the conduct of the war.

From a standpoint of shaken morale and depression Austria-Hungary comes first. Even before Austria had to admit her crushing defeat on the southwestern battle front the nation was in the throes of internal unrest.

With her people starving and on the verge of revolt and with riots taking place in many cities, the smash on the Italian front came as a crowning climax.

Food Situation Bad.

In Germany the food situation is desperate and that the German government is coming to realize that the people are war weary and ardently desire peace, was indicated strongly by a speech made before the reichstag in Berlin yesterday by Dr. Richard von Kuhlmann, the German foreign secretary.

The German government has taken alarm over the plight of Austria-Hungary and is showing some anxiety over the territorial quarrel between Bulgaria and Turkey. The strong pro-German ministry in Bulgaria, headed by Premier Radoslawoff, has collapsed and, while it is announced that there will be no change in Bulgaria's foreign policy, the new cabinet is being watched keenly from Berlin.

Turkey is famine-stricken and the Turkish population has been ravaged by many years of almost constant warfare. First came the Balkan states and finally the great war which has menaced the integrity of the Turkish empire with far greater dangers than any of the preceding conflicts.

ARCHDUKE TROOPS FACE ANNIHILATION.

International News Service.
LONDON, June 25.—"The troops of Archduke Joseph and Gen. Wurm have been surrounded and must surrender or they will be annihilated," the correspondent of the Giornale d'Italia today wired from the front, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome.

Earlier reports received overnight had emphasized the crushing manner in which the Austrians have been defeated. The magnitude of the Italians' victory grows more apparent with every fresh report. The Austrian retreat has been turned into a virtual debacle.

Italian cavalry that crossed to the eastern bank of the Piave has pursued the retreating Austrians mercilessly. Italian infantry divisions pressed on close behind the cavalry and the fleeing Austrians were given no chance to reassemble their forces.

Thousands of Austrians have been killed in their retreat. The Italians have advanced over ground literally covered with bodies of Austrian soldiers. The Italians have rushed horse artillery forward at great speed and the big guns have played havoc in the ranks of the Austrians.

The latest reports on the number of prisoners taken by the Italians was an unofficial dispatch from Rome which stated that the prisoners now totalled 45,000. The last war office announcement said the prisoners totaled 4,000, but officials point out that this referred to Sunday's operations and that the Italians have achieved their biggest success since that time.

Ringlins and Barnum and Bailey had contributed augmenting performances and somehow they put it over—these circus folk whose duty it is, in spite of their own sorrows, to make the rest of the world forget its woes.

HUNS WILL NOT FIND SELVES TO FREE BELGIUM

Foreign Secretary Reveals Typical Hypocrisy of Junkers in Talk on New Peace Terms.

International News Service.
BERLIN, via Basle, June 25.—"Germany and her allies wish to live within the frontiers traced by history, with possessions beyond the seas corresponding to our greatness and richness and our capacity for organization," declared Dr. Richard von Kuhlmann, the German foreign secretary, in an address before the reichstag, defining the war aims of the central powers.

The foreign secretary also said that the German allies want freedom of trade to all parts of the world.

"Regarding Belgium we do not wish to bind our hands while our adversaries do not express themselves," added Dr. von Kuhlmann.

"We hope that our enemies will understand it as a dream and an illusion to hope to fight successfully against means which we have at our disposal and that they will find that the moment has come to make peace offers corresponding to the situation, satisfying the vital necessities of Germany."

Von Kuhlmann made references to the conference of the rulers of the central powers at German Great headquarters at which a new agreement between the powers was drawn up. He said that both monarchs desired a broader alliance.

Dr. von Kuhlmann said that the Austro-German political and military alliance must be extended to Bulgaria but that there would be "keen observation and extreme prudence in the interval."

Russian affairs, he declared, must constitute the guiding star.

PEACE DRIVE NOT EFFECTIVE.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—At this very moment when the state department was making public confidential advice showing that Germany was negotiating the German war offensive in the west has failed for 1918, the cables brought to Washington this afternoon word that Germany's anticipated peace offensive had been initiated.

The first gun was fired by Dr. Richard von Kuhlmann, German foreign secretary and minister of German Junkermen. It already has been answered, officials pointed out, both by President Wilson in his "force to the uttermost" address, and by Sec'y of State Robert S. Lansing, in his Union college speech when he declared that the war must go on "until the German people realize that their military masters cannot dominate the world."

Widhbol Official Comment.

Until the complete official text of Dr. von Kuhlmann's address is received here official comment must be withheld. In fact it was considered entirely probable that the first comprehensive utterance on the subject will come from President Wilson himself, when he makes his promised address at Mount Vernon on July Fourth. This address already is expected to be one of the most important ever made by the president, and officials expect him to tell the central powers not only some rather unpleasant truths, but also to reveal at least in part the plans to be followed in restoring conquered Russia.

Privately, however, officials declared that the von Kuhlmann speech will make no change in the war situation. It simply demonstrates they say, the utter inability of the Prussian leaders to understand that the world will have nothing to do with a "German-made peace."

Show Hypocrisy.

As an instance of the utter hypocrisy of the entire address a high administration official pointed out that the attitude of the entente and the United States toward Belgium has been known to the world since the opening gun was fired. Dr. von Kuhlmann's declaration that Germany does not wish to bind herself while "our adversaries do not express themselves" was declared to be on a par with the official "sermon of paper" declaration.

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN.

WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR STAMP DRIVE

Signed Pledge Card Will be Only Acceptable "Proxy."

At the noon luncheon in the Rotary room of the Oliver hotel Monday more than 250 enthusiastic women, who are to drive the home guards in the War Savings drive this week, met as the guests of J. D. Oliver, state director, to receive their final instructions. Col. Charles H. Calvert of the home guards presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers, W. A. Weed, chairman of the factory committee, and Col. Fred L. Dennis.

Drive Differs from Others. "The War Savings drive this week differs from the other war movements, such as the War chest and Liberty loan, in that they were purely voluntary, while instructions for this campaign come directly from Washington," said Mr. Weed in opening his address. "The United States government has summoned every adult in the country to be present either in person or by proxy at a meeting to be held on June 28. A signed pledge card indicating the individual subscription of the person will be the only acceptable proxy."

War Must Be Well Financed. "War is a business proposition," continued Mr. Weed, "and for that reason must be well financed if it is to succeed. The government has taken this method of raising the necessary $2,000,000,000 however, not alone for the obvious financial reason, but also for a much needed lesson in thrift."

In instructing the women how to approach the people whom they were to solicit, Mr. Weed told them that the type of person hardest to deal with would be the one who would throw up his hands in despair, exclaiming, "Good Lord, something else. I am already buying Liberty bonds and subscribing to the War chest and I simply can't do anything else." "If that excuse is a valid one, we might just as well withdraw our troops from the battle line in France right now," he continued. "Not a single person in this country has even tasted of sacrifice compared with what the people of France and England have done."

People Are Not Giving. He further urged the workers to emphasize to the people the fact that they are not asked to "give." "The slogan, 'give until it hurts' is absolutely erroneous when applied to the War Savings drive," concluded Mr. Weed. "For War Savings stamps are the best investment one could make and have the best security in the world. The only reason for placing the maximum investment at $1,000 is to prohibit the rich men in the country from obtaining the entire benefit from this absolutely sure investment. If of the $1,000 limit should be declared off today the entire $2,000,000,000 would be subscribed within 24 hours."

Women Urged to Do Best. At the close of the luncheon Col. Calvert presented the chairman of the women workers, Mrs. Harry P. Schell, who urged the women to do their best in the present campaign. Col. Calvert then explained still further the details of the campaign and announced that the meetings for Friday, June 28, would be held in the various school houses of the city at 7:30 o'clock. The yellow cards, he explained, bearing the names of those who refuse to sign the pledges, will be sent to headquarters at Washington only when officers of the campaign were firmly convinced that the person refusing was financially able to do his bit in this drive.

Women Assigned Districts. Following the luncheon the chairman of the women workers, each of whom has a committee of approximately 20 assisting her, met with the various ward captains of the home guards and were assigned to their districts. Following is the list of workers and the wards to which they were assigned:

First ward—Capt. H. R. Paxton of the home guards, assisted by Mrs. O. Deahl, Mrs. C. A. Howe, Mrs. Sterling Winchell and Mrs. A. C. Murdoch.

Second ward—Lieut. Claude Campbell, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Yena.

Third ward—Capt. Frank Dolph, assisted by Miss Sabra Ann Fraick and Mrs. Walter O. Fassnacht.

Fourth ward—Capt. Shirley Reynolds, assisted by Mrs. John L. Worsden, Miss Mary E. Luckey and Miss Beatrice M. Wolfe.

Fifth ward—Lieut. Victor DeFrees, assisted by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. W. E. Sherman.

Sixth ward—Lieut. D. C. Raymond, assisted by Mrs. C. P. Drummond and Mrs. Wisehart.

Mrs. A. E. Stonecipher will also assist in the work but has not as yet been assigned.

The women who will have charge of the down town booths where pledges will be taken and stamps sold are: Miss Eleanor Stephenson, Oliver hotel; Mrs. J. M. Stephenson, Jefferson hotel; Mrs. Anna Larabee, Merchants' National bank; Mrs. George Cutler, South Bend National bank; Mrs. John Schaffer, American Trust Co.; Miss Ella Leach, First National bank; Mrs. George W. Phillips, Farmers' Trust bank; Mrs. Frank Hering, St. Joseph County Savings bank; Mrs. E. T. Bonds, Citizens' National bank; Mrs. F. L. Sims, Union Trust Co.; Miss Esther Fulton, street sales.

MINISTERS HAVE UNIQUE BANQUET

Extra! Extra! All About Dr. Burnett's Arrest on Charges of Autocracy.

The South Bend and Mishawaka Ministerial association held a very strange and all together exciting luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. Monday at high noon. For instance, please peruse the menu, and you will not be surprised that this banquet takes place but once a year.

Curriculum. Penance (cucumbers) Pelagianism (radishes), orthodox.

Modern ultra-secredatism, Egyptian garlic, Adamic-anapismism, Original sin and paradise, alias apple pie and ice cream.

"Ah! we must not forget the purgatorial soup, but at just what stage of the proceedings this was served is not known. The motto of this ethical luncheon was: 'We do nothing for nothing, for nobody.'"

Dr. Burnett "Arrested." But, incidentally, a policeman came in during the last course of this repast with a warrant for the arrest of Dr. J. A. Burnett of Mishawaka. Dr. Burnett was kept under arrest until the following officers were able to give him a fair trial: Dr. M. H. Appleby, judge; Dr. J. L. Gardiner, prosecuting attorney; Dr. John Alexander, court bailiff; Ray Bird, attorney for the defense; and O. O. Louder, court stenographer.

Dr. Burnett was accused of being autocratic and "tyrannical" in his rulings. He was also charged with showing favoritism in his decisions, and many other "criminal" offenses. The twelve witnesses brought in a verdict of "guilty," and gave him the sentence he deserved. The terms of his release were signing of a $10,000 bond by any Presbyterian minister or Rev. John Alexander. The prosecuting attorney made such a pathetic appeal that the sentence was commuted to two hours' confinement in the gymnasium. All the rest of the company shared the same sentence. The prisoners served the sentence, which consisted of hard labor at volleyball, basketball and basket ball.

The association will not meet again until cooler weather.

Municipal Celebration Promises to be Elaborate Affair—Bevo Barred.

C. B. Eddy, chairman of the committee which is to put on the municipal celebration at Rum Village on July 4, called a meeting at 8:25 p. m. last night in the Jefferson school building, at which the various committee reported the progress made by them since last Monday evening.

A representative of the Belgian Archery club addressed the meeting and offered to have a few expert archers give a demonstration of that art. He also agreed to have the members of the club march in the big patriotic parade which will be held on that day.

Athletics and Racing. F. E. Wolfe, municipal recreation director, reported that he had given specific instructions to the athletic leaders who will assist him in carrying out the program of races and other contests. These contests will be held continuously from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. In connection with the athletic program, Mrs. Otto A. Bevo said that she and Mrs. E. V. Hiquist had solicited prizes for these events from the down town merchants and that 42 prizes had already been donated.

Another feature of the day will consist in loosing a number of homing pigeons. These birds are now being used extensively for carrying messages along the battle line in Europe.

Music Musical Program. Miss Ethel E. Harmon, supervisor of music in the public schools, has arranged a patriotic musical program which will compare favorably with big town celebrations. It will consist of solos by the best talent in South Bend, band concerts and community singing during which some of her pupils will perform a patriotic ceremony. Miss Harmon has had three years of experience in Houston, Tex., doing this sort of work. She requests all her high school pupils to get in communication with her at the earliest possible moment, so that she may give them the instructions needed for this ceremony and the songs which will be used.

Miss Ethel Wahl will sing "When the Boys Come Home." She possesses a charming soprano voice of wide range which will be heard to good advantage in this song, which is eminently fitted to the occasion. L. L. Kemper will sing "The Trumpet."

Opposed to Sale of "Bevo." A heated discussion arose at last night's meeting as to whether or not Bevo and drinks similar to this should be sold on the grounds. The main committee was all opposed to it, especially C. W. Copp, who expressed himself as being unalterably opposed to selling beverages of this nature. "The breweries are backing this product, and breweries for the most part are operated by Germans, therefore I think it would be disloyal and un-American to sell it at the outing." The proposition was voted down 5 to 1.

Day's Program. While the program has not been entirely completed, the following schedule has been given out, subject to change:

Single call, 1:30 p. m.
Address of welcome by C. D. Britton.

"Stars and Stripes Forever," by Red Men's band.

A patriotic ceremony, by the young men of South Bend and vicinity, under the direction of Woman's Civic league.

Community singing, led by High School chorus, directed by Miss Ethel E. Harmon.

Address by J. W. Foley of the state council of defense.

"A Trumpeter," a solo by L. L. Kemper.

Address by ex-Mayor Bookwater of Indianapolis.

"When the Boys Come Home," a solo by Miss Ethel Wahl.

Address by Sgt. Baldwin.

Selection by Polish Falcon band.

The pageant, directed by Mrs. Homer Miller.

FREIGHT RATE EXPERT EXPLAINS NEW RULING

According to C. H. Rodehaver, a consulting railroad expert of St. Louis, who is at present in South Bend, Director McAdoo's orders in regard to railroads filing a schedule of increased freight rates which was to have gone into effect at midnight last night are as follows:

The original order was to advance all freight rates 25 per cent, cancelling all state rates and advancing them to the interstate scale. This order also cancelled all import and export commodity rates.

This order has been modified to the extent that the state rates will remain in effect, but will be increased 25 per cent and certain import rates will be restored with advances; also the minimum of $15 a car on low grade commodities has been cancelled and therefore will not become effective.

A dispatch from Washington late Monday afternoon announced that a 30-day extension had been granted on this order, allowing that additional time for railroads to file their new schedules with the commission.

The government is badly in need of men who can be sent right into the signal corps and who have some knowledge of the work, and have been urging Mr. Appleman to start another class for some time.

The members of the last class, who completed the course in March, were placed in the signal corps as soon as they were taken into the service and some of them have already advanced in rating. The new class was begun last night and the first steps in the course were taken. It is hoped that all young men who are in the draft are will not overlook this opportunity to benefit themselves.

Notre Dame News

Military instruction at Notre Dame university which has been suspended since the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany will be resumed when the new college year opens next September. A comprehensive plan will be put into effect by the war department at the university simultaneously with the other schools and colleges in the country in order to provide military instruction for the college students during the present emergency.

In a letter addressed to Dr. John Cavanaugh, C. S. C., president of the university, the secretary of war announced that this new policy of military instruction aims to accomplish a two-fold object. It tends to develop as a great military asset the large body of young men in the colleges and to prevent unnecessary and wasteful depletion of the colleges through indiscriminate volunteering and by offering to the students a definite and immediate military status.

As in the past the authorities of Notre Dame university will cooperate with the government in promoting the new plan. Before the government transferred the two military instructors, the undergraduates were required to spend three hours weekly in drill. Maj. Ralph Stoddard, instructor in charge of drilling at Notre Dame university, is now in the quartermaster's department in Philadelphia, while George Alexander Campbell, who won a captain's commission at the officers' training camp, is now in France, promoted to the rank of major.

With a large attendance present the annual spiritual retreat for the priests and brothers of the Holy Cross congregation opened Sunday evening in the church of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart of Notre Dame university. The Rev. Paschal Robinson, O. F. M., S. J. D., professor at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C., is conducting the retreat which will continue daily until next Sunday evening. Priests and brothers of the congregation from Chicago, Cincinnati, Watertown, Wis., Portland, Ore., Austin, Tex., Fort Wayne and New Orleans arrived for the retreat during the week and more are expected today.

Owing to the difficult transportation facilities caused by the war, the general chapter of the Holy Cross congregation scheduled for this year is postponed until a later date.

The order of exercises as arranged for the retreat is: 5 a. m., rising; 5:30 a. m., meditation; 6 a. m., mass; 6:30 a. m., little hours; 7 a. m., breakfast; 9 a. m., sermon; 11:30 a. m., sermon; 12 a. m., lunch; 2 p. m., vespers; 3 p. m., conference; 4 p. m., matins and lauds; 5 p. m., sermon; 6 p. m., supper; 7:30 p. m., sermon and benediction; 9 p. m., retiring.

Members of the city administration and employees of the city who have joined either the military or naval service of the United States will find their old jobs waiting for them when they come back home, if a resolution presented Monday night becomes a law. The resolution provides that all employees of the city who have gone to the colors may have their old positions with the city if they claim them within six months after the war is over or they are returned home for any other honorable reason. The resolution was referred to the committee of the whole.

The ordinance providing that persons leaving rented property shall leave such property in good sanitary condition was referred again to the committee of the whole. Councilmen Veimet and Luther objected to the wording of the measure.

OFFER VENEREAL DISEASE MEASURE

Ordinance Providing for Investigation and Quarantine Introduced in Council.

Preliminary steps toward stamping out venereal disease in South Bend were taken Monday night when an ordinance providing for the investigation of suspected cases of this disease and compulsory treatment for persons afflicted with it was introduced in the city council.

The measure provides that the secretary of the city board of health shall have power to investigate any suspected case of venereal disease, and that upon finding that such disease exists, the persons so afflicted may be placed under suitable quarantine.

Would Treat Patients. The ordinance further provides that such afflicted persons shall be given treatment, and shall be made to sign report cards, pledging that the patient will continue treatment until he is entirely cured.

The secretary of the city health board shall act under the rules laid down in such cases by the state board of health. A penalty of from $10 to $50, to which may be added a jail sentence.

The ordinance was referred to the committee of the whole for investigation. It will probably be reported on at the meeting of the council two weeks hence.

Members of the city council and the city clerk and his deputy are to wear badges to show that they are city officials. What is known as the "sunburst" ordinance, providing for these badges was passed by the council. The ordinance originally provided that the controller should have a badge, but the committee of the whole substituted the city clerk and his deputy for the controller.

Byers Wanted Banners. Councilman C. A. Byers, in speaking against the ordinance, declared that he had again been misquoted. He said that he had never seen any use of a badge, but that he favored a banner. He said he wanted something that the councilmen could carry in a parade, something, he said, that would let people know who the councilmen really are.

However, the ordinance passed, and after the nature of the measure and its purpose were explained to Mr. Byers, he voted for it, declaring that he now saw some real purpose in wearing the badge.

"We must have something to show people that we are what we claim we are," he said.

Councilman William Goebel wanted to know what kind of badges the councilmen were going to get. He said that inasmuch as he was one of those who would have to wear a badge, he wanted to know something of its nature.

City Clerk Bilinski explained that the badges were to be modest affairs of rolled gold with the word "councilman" inscribed in the center. Whether they are to be round, oblong or pointed will not be decided. It was pointed out, until after a catalog is duly consulted. It is said that they will cost about $2 each, making one dozen of them cost $24.

MUSIC PUPILS DISPLAY 'MUSICAL ABILITY AND CHARM IN RECITAL'

A program of much merit was given by the pupils of Max Wald Monday evening in the Conservatory recital hall. Many of the compositions given were extremely difficult, but were played with such art as to conceal technique and reveal beauty. Miss Ruth Grove opened the program with the first movement of the sonata in F sharp by Schumann, which was given with clear style and intelligent phrasing.

Miss Theophila Makleiska pleased with a double number, Autumn, by Chaminade, and Legende by Paderewski. Both selections revealed a facile technique and brilliant execution. Miss Ruth Kise gave a charming reading of Moszkowski's Suite, entering into the four different moods with a characteristic interpretation and a keen sense of rhythm for each. Miss Bernice Reyer held a strong melody line in a romance in F sharp by Schumann and was equally successful in a lighter vein in a serenade by MacDowell.

Miss Helene Torrey gave a delightful rendering of four numbers from the Valse Op. 18, by Schuetz. Miss Torrey is a young player of decided talent. She has a naturalness and freedom of expression that wins her audience.

Miss Valeria Bon Durant with Mr. Wald at second piano closed the program with Le Matin (Morning) and Le Soir (Evening), by Chaminade, and a ballet from the Petite Suite by Debussy. These were carefully done with a fine feeling for detail.

A general recital will be given by pupils from all departments of the Conservatory, including piano, voice and expression, Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at recital hall. On Thursday evening the pupils of Dora Hershenov will appear in a piano recital. The public is cordially invited to these last free recitals of the season.

LLOYD GEORGE IS AMAZED BY U. S. ORGANIZATION

Makes Statement in House of Commons, Saying America's Contribution of Men Satisfies Allies.

LONDON, June 25.—Premier Lloyd George announced Monday that the next couple of months would be anxious ones. There might be a great blow coming in the next few days, he said, and certainly in the next few days, and on this blow the issue of the campaign might depend. The entente allies, he added, never felt better prepared to meet it.

Premier Lloyd George said the Austro-Hungarians were in full retreat. The question now was, he asked, whether they would be able to effect a retreat.

Amazed at America's Organization. The premier, who made his announcement in the house of commons, referred to the amazing organization which was bringing American troops to France.

"Enough Americans," he added, "have arrived to satisfy the allies and to dispossess and ultimately defeat our foes."

It was possible that within a short time, the premier said, the allies would be stronger than Germany. The enemy, he declared, had no further reserves to call upon after another offensive except by a drastic combining out of the essential industries which he already had started.

Russian Problem Great.

Mr. Lloyd George emphasized the difficulty and almost impossibility of dealing with Russia, with her many differing and changing governments. He agreed, however, that it would be to the interest of the British people and also just and equitable if Russia wanted, that Great Britain stands by Russia.

Replying to criticisms of the military policy and to suggestions that the cabinet had overruled military advice, Premier Lloyd George said he thought that Mr. Bonar Law last week had given all the information that could be furnished at the present moment consistent with military prudence. Naturally, questions about the distribution and numbers of troops could not be answered.

Concerning the American troops, the numbers arriving since March 21, said the premier, had been more than satisfactory, and he added: "It is an amazing piece of organization which has enabled the bringing of such a vast number of first-rate American troops to France."

Hogze interposed: "The figures are admitted."

Mr. Lloyd George, waving his arms: "Oh, all right. My honorable friend ought to be satisfied. I hope the Germans are also."

American Army Encouraging.

In declining to give figures as to the numbers of American troops, the premier said they were quite enough to encourage the allies and dispossess and ultimately defeat the central powers.

They were of the very best quality and many were already on the firing line. He hoped that soon very many more would be there.

A breezy altercation arose between Mr. Hogze and the premier on a reference to something said during a secret session. Mr. Lloyd George warmly protesting against Mr. Hogze committing a breach of faith in referring to a secret session. The incident was provoked by the premier defending his earlier statement that at the opening of the German offensive in March, he contended the forces were as near as possible equal.

German Claims Exaggerated.

Dealing with the happenings since when the premier said that the Germans had enormously exaggerated the losses they had inflicted on the allies, and it was just possible that the allies might be exaggerating the losses inflicted on the Germans. What was certain, however, was that there had been a great drain on the enemy reserves.

It was impossible, continued the premier, to make a computation of the relative strength of the forces at the present date. The American troops were arriving at a great rate and he should be very surprised if in a comparatively short time this allied strength on the western front was not greater than the German. The Germans were in the position of having to throw in their last reserves within the next two months, and lacked further reserves except by the most drastic combining from essential industries. There were indications that they were already resorting to such combining which proved that the allies had inflicted heavy losses in the course of this campaign.

In the next couple of months, said the premier, the position would naturally be an anxious one, but the allies' position was gradually improving and he could say without boasting, which would be folly, that the allied generals felt confident as to the issue.

Turning to recent battles the premier declared that the enemy had intended to reach Compiegne but had failed and were beaten back by the French army.

The losses inflicted on the Germans undoubtedly were very serious and on the whole, the premier declared, the last German attack on the allies was undoubtedly a defeat, for the enemy failed to reach his objectives.

Russia in Chaos.

With regard to Russia, that country was in a perfectly chaotic condition. One could hardly find the same government in any two villages. It was useless talking to the Russian government as if there were one government for the whole country. That was one of the difficulties that had to be dealt with.

There was a de facto government in Moscow, but also one in almost every place and conditions were changing daily. "I quite agree that it is to our interest, and just and equitable to stand by Russia—if Russia wants us to," said the premier. Russia has been brutally treated by Germany, she has been dismembered and the treaties which Germany concluded have not been respected 24 hours. In defiance of the treaties, Germany is marching troops through Ukraine, the Don territory and Caucasia and will carry her march to the north.

"Perhaps I ought to say a word on Italy. The Italian victory is one of the most portentous events of the year, and it may have infinitely greater results than other victories which look bigger. It is a defeat inflicted upon a power not in the best condition to sustain it.

"Here is a great encounter, in which the Austrian empire is being held. All the strength has been able to gather is being held, because for this attack he brought up every available man. Considerably more than 50 per cent of the Austrian effectives were engaged in this attack. Had they captured the Montello position they might have got behind the whole allied position and it might have been disastrous. But they were held by the Italian army. The pressure against them increased daily and now the Austrians are in full retreat, and the only question is whether they will be able to effect their retreat.

Great Disaster for Austria.

"The Italians have recaptured Montello and are now for the first time in months on the left side of the Piave. They have captured a number of guns and recaptured the guns lost in the first offensive. The Austrian army committed its whole strength to this great offensive and had inflicted upon it one of the greatest disasters in the war. Thus at a time of serious discontent in Austria, when three-fifths of the population are completely out of sympathy with the objects of the war, as a matter of fact they are far more in sympathy with the aims of the allies, and when three-fifths of the population are well aware that their only chance of achieving anything in the nature of freedom for themselves with which to secure a great allied victory and at a time when the whole of the Austrian prisoners' belonging to one great and powerful race in Austria were actually congregating in Bulgaria and Turkey. I point these things out, not to raise false hopes, but to show that all we need is to keep steady, endure and stand fast. There is not the faintest doubt in my mind, surveying the whole position and looking at the whole facts, that our victory will be complete."

The central powers also have difficulties on other countries in Bulgaria and Turkey. I point these things out, not to raise false hopes, but to show that all we need is to keep steady, endure and stand fast. There is not the faintest doubt in my mind, surveying the whole position and looking at the whole facts, that our victory will be complete."

Following Mr. Lloyd George, former Premier Asquith congratulated Great Britain's Italian allies for the marvelous steadfastness, brilliant dash and power of initiative with which they followed up their success, which was one of the most remarkable performances of the war, and yielding the greatest possible hope for the future of the allies.

Desire to Aid Russian People.

Concerning Russia Mr. Asquith said he considered it of the utmost importance that we acquaint the Russian people with our desire to help them; that we are their friends not merely in a sentimental fashion, but friends whose friendship has not been cooled or impaired by the disastrous disaffection of the Russian government.

"Let us, therefore," Mr. Asquith continued, "with no uncertain or divided voice, send that message to the Russian people and be prepared to back it up by every means, diplomatic or otherwise."

The difficulties, Mr. Asquith added, were enormous but they must be surmounted and this required patience as well as tact. No step, he said, should be left untried to bring about among the allied powers such a frame of mind, such a sort of action as would enable them to bring into really effective operation the latent forces in Russia which he was sure were increasingly tending toward the allied cause.

Scherer Resigns From National Defense Council

NEW YORK, June 25.—Dr. James A. B. Scherer, president of the Throop College of Technology, Pasadena, Cal., announced here Monday night that he had resigned as a member of the state council's section of the council of national defense and made public a letter notifying Secy. Baker, chairman of the council, saying he had done so "because of your policy in warning representatives of the council, including myself, against freedom of speech in denouncing certain newspapers."

Dr. Scherer in his letter says he officially received a memorandum of Mr. Baker on the subject, instructing a telegram "from a Hearst agent" complaining against another member of the council, "for speaking (far less frequently and more mildly than I have done) in warning the people against the Hearst influence."

Mr. Baker's memorandum, Dr. Scherer says in the letter, instructed speakers "that hereafter they must not indulge in discriminatory remarks as to the relative value of newspapers."

"This was officially sent to me," he says, "with the request to 'note and return.'"

JOAQUIMA SURVIVOR IS SAFE AT MADRID

MADRID, June 25.—The captain of the Spanish sailing vessel Joaquima has arrived here. He reports that the Joaquima, which sailed from Cuba, was held up by a submarine which declined to examine the ship's papers and forced the crew to disembark in the boats. The vessel was sunk and the crew was afloat for five days, being rescued off the coast of Africa after having endured terrible privations. The sailing vessel which picked up the crew landed all the men at Gibraltar except the captain.

A dispatch from Paris May 22 said that the Joaquima had been found abandoned and drifting near the African coast by a fishing vessel. The hull had been pierced by numerous shell shots. The fate of the crew was not known. The hull was towed to the Canary Islands.

INDIANA SHIPPERS TO DISPUTE FREIGHT RATE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 25.—Coincident with final preparations of Indiana shippers and railroads to comply with the recent railroad administration order for a 25 per cent rate increase on many classes of freight, effective at midnight, the Indiana public service commission Monday announced that it expected within 10 days to lay before Director Gen. McAdoo sufficient evidence to induce him to reclassify the rates in Illinois. Indiana shippers contend that the present Illinois classification is prejudicial in favor of Illinois shippers.

Germany's Whole Offensive Program Upset by Rout of Austrians on Piave

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Germany's entire offensive program may have been upset in the opinion of some officers here by the crushing defeat of the Austrians along the Piave river.

Official reports reaching Washington bear out the picture of the Austrian disaster given in press accounts from Italy, although the full extent of the Italian success is not yet apparent. It is regarded as certain, however, that the central powers have been dealt a blow that will further shake the morale of their people and probably will compel the German high command to make a complete readjustment of its plans in France.

Baker Congratulates Italy. Secy. Baker showed the significance attached here to the defeat of the Austrians when he despatched a telegram of congratulation Monday to the American ambassador at Rome for transmission to the Italian minister of war.

Mr. Baker's message was sent before the secretary had received additional reports from the Italian front showing the increasing scope of the Austrian disaster. It was prompted by the fact that the enemy was in retreat across the Piave and before the news came that the Italians had smashed up the retreating foe, making the retirement a disorganized rout. There is no doubt here now that the victory will prove to be one of the most decisive in character of the whole war.

Will Influence French Course. Army officers agreed with the view expressed by Mr. Baker that the defeat could not help but influence greatly the course of events in France. It is regarded as vital from the German point of view that the Italian front be made secure before German designs in France can be prosecuted to their fullest development. While there is imminent danger that the Austro-Hungarian government may collapse, Germany can not devote herself wholly to the task she has undertaken of forcing victory in the west before American power can swing the scales finally against her.

Germany Moves to Austria's Aid. For this reason, both at the war department and in diplomatic circles, there was much speculation as to the moves to support Austria already taken by the German high command. There is little doubt that reports of large German troop movements to Italy are well founded, and it is believed the situation must be restored there at all costs unless the whole offensive in France is to fall of its own weight.

Germany Faces Big Problem. The German problem in pushing troops to Italy is a difficult one. Not only will the withdrawal of men from France weaken the whole offensive there at a time when American aid, the arrival of Italian divisions and the other measures are beginning to place at Gen. Foch's disposal enough reserves to enable him to strike hard at any weakened point, but the transportation of a sufficient force to offset the Italian victory must necessarily be slow.

Italians Took Advantage of Flood. Secy. Baker pointed out Monday that the Italians under Gen. Diaz, fresh from successful check of the Austrian advances, took quick and full advantage of the rise of the Piave behind the enemy. Indications are that the flower of the Austrian army employed in forcing the crossing, has been virtually annihilated and the Italians are driving home their victory relentlessly. Every day means further disorganization among the Austrians at the present rate, German reinforcements must arrive quickly and in force, many officers believe, unless the Austrian war machine is to be crippled for months to come at least.

Food Condition Still Serious. Meanwhile official reports show the growing seriousness of the food problem in Italy. The people apparently are in no condition to stand a great military reverse such as that they must now face. Immediate German action to support her ally seems absolutely necessary, in the view of officials here, unless the back door to Berlin itself is to be left unguarded.

There have been many signs recently that Gen. Foch was rapidly setting into shape a strong reserve force. The employment of the American and Italian divisions has served to release French shock troops for rest and rehabilitation. There are indications also that the effect of British man power legislation is beginning to be felt at the front. The divisions which suffered severely in the German assaults apparently have been out of the line for some time. The recent successful resistance of the Italians near Rheims was in positions formerly held by these British units.

Whether Gen. Foch is prepared to take advantage of the diversion caused by the Austrian disaster can not be foretold. Some observers here, including Italian officials, believe that the situation on the Italian front is so grave for the Germans that they will be compelled to transfer their main operations to that theater, leaving only defensive forces in the west.

Some officials here, however, expect the Germans to hit hard in France in order to cover whatever other steps they are compelled to take for the relief of Austria. Repeated blows along the allied front, it is argued, would tend to keep Gen. Foch from inaugurating an inter-allied offensive in Italy and might impede plans for a great counter drive in France.

The accelerated movement of American troops to France is going ahead without confusion. There is certainty in the minds of high officials that in excess of a million men will have been shipped before July 1. Originally it was not hoped to reach this figure, but the shipments obtained from Great Britain has proved sufficient to increase the program.

ZIONISTS MEET IN 21ST ANNUAL CONVENTION

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—Sweeping reorganization plans designed to change the entire internal organization of the Zionist bodies in the United States that composed the American Federation of Zionists, were adopted Monday during a session of the 21st annual convention here. The plans call for a division of the affiliated bodies of the federation into district organizations, modeled along the geographical divisional boundaries of political parties in the United States. The present form of organization, which is divided by social groups, will be abandoned. Supporters of the reorganization program feel that it will centralize Zionist activities and make the entire body more responsive to the central ruling body.

During the night session of the convention the program of Palestine restoration was presented, and the plan by which the Jewish homeland will be made inviolable and practical were received with enthusiasm.

BERNSTEIN THE WRITER DISCLAIMS BOLSHEVIKI

NEW YORK, June 25.—Herman Bernstein, the writer who returned yesterday from Russia, said Monday that the published statement that he had gone to Russia six months ago convinced that the bolsheviks would establish a stable government was incorrect. It was true, as stated, that he had returned convinced that Lenin and Trotsky were in the pay of Germany, but it was untrue that he had gone to Russia as a sympathizer of the bolsheviks. For after a previous visit last year he had denounced them, he said. The Brest-Litovsk conference, he said, proved my estimate of the treacherous work of the bolsheviks was correct.

CRAWFORD COUNTY EXCEEDS QUOTA

Third County in State to Subscribe Year's W. S. S. Amount.

Crawford county reported to the Indiana war savings committee Monday that it had exceeded its year's quota of War Savings and Thrift stamps by selling for cash and guaranteed pledges over $245,000. Crawford county's quota was $241,140. It is one of the poorest counties in the state so far as soil conditions is concerned, and has no manufactures to speak of. This is due to the untiring efforts of Dist. Chairman S. J. Elsiey who with Crawford county committee set out to secure 200 persons who would take the limit during the Thrift stamp week campaign and succeeded in getting 105.

"If Crawford county can go over the top," said State Director Joseph D. Oliver Monday, "I feel certain that every other county in the state, by using the same tactics and putting in the same amount of work can likewise raise its year's quota."

Third to "Go Over Top."

Crawford is the third county in Indiana to exceed its year's quota. The other two being Fayette and Ohio.

Wayne county is also expected to subscribe its annual quota before tonight. With a quota of $545,029 and sales during the previous six months of $545,924 the county war savings committee reported on Friday sales amounting to $129,000, and on Saturday sales totaling $135,000, making for the two days $264,000.

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN

SCOUR COUNTRY FOR ASSAILANT

Police After Man Who Attacked 13-year-old Girl Near Ligonier.

Police authorities of South Bend and the surrounding counties are searching for the assailant of the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Debrular of Cromwell, six miles west of Ligonier, who was criminally assaulted by a passing stranger Monday morning.

According to the Ligonier authorities, the girl was talking a cow to pasture when the stranger drove up in a high-powered automobile.

The girl is said to have been grabbed by the stranger and taken to the woods of the Turkey Creek schoolhouse, which is just across the line into Kosciusko county.

The girl's screams were heard by a farmer working in a nearby field. He gave the alarm, and at once the stranger sprang into his automobile, which had a flat tire, and drove away. He is supposed to have stopped the machine to change tires when he saw the girl and caught her.

The South Bend police are known to have received information that the girl's assailant is a South Bend man, and a search is being made for him.

The country around Cromwell, Ligonier and the adjoining counties were scoured by a posse of farmers, headed by the marshal at Ligonier, in search of the child's assailant. The automobile with the flat tire was tracked through several miles of road, but the posse failed to capture the stranger.

The information received by the South Bend police indicates a well known young man of this city, but the description coming from Ligonier pictures a middle-aged man. The South Bend man named is said to be about 21 years old.

The police of Elkhart were also asked to aid in the search for the man, and an officer on a motorcycle was sent out after him. It is believed that the stranger knew that he was being followed, for he lost no time in getting away.

The police here have also received information that the last seen of the automobile with the flat tire was when it was headed for South Bend.

The committee, therefore, has issued a request that all solicitors read carefully their instructions as contained on the yellow card. These instructions are: "This card MUST be filled out by the county chairman, or his representative, when he has evidence that a person who has refused to sign a pledge card is financially able to purchase War Savings stamps or is in a position to pledge himself to purchase War Savings stamps. Founder of Training School Succumbs After Several Months' Illness.

Mrs. Alma Oliver Ware, founder and director of the South Bend Kindergarten Training school, died Tuesday morning shortly after 2 o'clock at her home, 212 S. Lafayette blvd., Melville building. Mrs. Ware had been ill for several months. During the school term last winter she was forced to give up her personal attention to her school and went south in the hope of recuperating. She returned late in May, but without having regained health.

Mrs. Ware was born in Savannah, Ga. She came to South Bend seven years ago from Chicago and founded the training school for kindergarten directors and primary teachers. This school operates in close conjunction with the public schools and Mrs. Ware was, in addition, the general supervisor of kindergarten work in the public schools. Tired of being sick, and worried because he needed the attention of a physician, Charles Terrell, 60 years old, committed suicide early Tuesday morning by shooting himself through the left temple with a .22 calibre rifle at his home, 516 E. Howard st.

The report of the rifle awakened Mrs. Terrell, who had been sleeping and supposed that her husband was still by her side. Terrell had gotten out of bed, secured the rifle and shot himself.

A physician was hastily summoned, and the unconscious man was hurried to Epworth hospital, but he died soon after reaching there.

Mrs. Terrell had been ill for some time, and this seemed to worry him. Monday it became necessary to call a physician, and this worried him still more. About 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning he got out of bed without the knowledge of Mrs. Terrell and with the small calibre rifle ended his life.

Gossip of the Markets

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Financial News Bulletin says: "There is now no doubt that if signs point more and more strongly to the almost complete collapse of Austria, important and active investment interests will buy securities extensively upon the theory that it will mean inevitably an ending of the war more quickly than if both German and Austrian armies have to be overcome."

"A strong impression prevails that while something important is developing in Baldwin, buying of the equipment stocks is fundamentally based upon orders that have been placed for railroad equipment, and additional contracts that must be given to these concerns on a huge scale during the next year or two."

"There is a steady demand on moderate recessions for Anaconda copper. Wealthy western interests are credited with taking the stock."

NEW YORK, June 25.—The Financial News Bulletin says: "There seems to be no question in the minds of important financial interests that Washington will soon announce higher prices for metal products. The advanced freight rates and higher wages alone are looked upon as factors which will make it inevitable."

NEW YORK, June 25. — German plots to hide enemy assets under the cloak of American corporations organized or loaned for the purpose were revealed here Monday when A. Mitchell Palmer, alien property custodian, took over three German-owned concerns with an aggregate capitalization of $5,500,000. Federal investigators were reported by Mr. Palmer to be on the trail of other highly capitalized firms which have used the same means to defeat the law.

The companies in the group taken over Monday were Dieckhoff, Raffler and Co., importers and manufacturers of notions at 550 Broadway; Raffler, Ersloh and Co., cordage manufacturers of the same address, with plants in Cuba, and the American Storage Co. of Havana.

It is charged that on March 17, 1917, three weeks before the United States entered the war against Germany, George Carlton Comstock, a New York lawyer, advised Ewald C. Dieckhoff, one of the principal owners, to "safeguard" his property. Comstock, in a letter which was discovered by the department of justice, is said to have written on that date:

Advised to Safeguard Property. "The best way to safeguard your property * * * would be to transfer all of your assets to a New York corporation which could be organized for this purpose, or a corporation already in existence could be used. We have corporations in this office which are not doing anything at this time—they having been created for certain purposes and those purposes having been accomplished, are now available for other uses after amendments of the objects and increases of capital stock have taken place."

Dieckhoff, who is said to have lived in this country 15 years, but never has been naturalized, has a residence in Greenwich, Conn., a town house in Park av., and maintains a "5000 acre estate" in the Catskills. Others involved are Rudolph Ersloh of New York, a native of Germany, but now a naturalized American; William H. Erhart of New York, an American citizen, who has one sister married to Ersholt and another sister, Clara Erhart von Truchsess, who lives in Germany. Still other owners of the concerns taken over, who are living in Germany are Johann Herkmann, Johann C. W. Rumpke, Millie Raffler, Emma Crane, Till Ramm and the heirs of Anna Ersloh.

Planned to Accept Notes. The plan, according to Mr. Palmer, was devised to cover these German holdings by apparently selling all the German assets to one or more "American" companies and receiving pay for them in notes not due for three years, before which time it was expected the war would be over so the property could be returned to the Germans.

Filed False Returns. The corporation then filed alleged false returns with the alien property custodian, showing no enemy owned property. In support of these returns, Dieckhoff and Ersloh filed voluminous affidavits swearing such transactions had been made in good faith, and that they had not been made in contemplation of evading the trading with the enemy act. Atty. Comstock has supported their declarations with assurances that the deals were bona fide, it is asserted.

German Causes Investigation. Francis P. Garvan, director of the bureau of investigations for the alien property custodian, was not satisfied with the situation, however, and before the reports and affidavits had been accepted had uncovered, with the aid of the department of justice agents, what Mr. Palmer declares "a fraudulent scheme to protect enemy property."

THEATERS

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

"Berlin via America," the big feature war drama presented at the Auditorium yesterday, tells an intensely interesting and exciting story.

Phil Kelly, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, is a member of the U. S. secret service. Shortly after the break with Germany he is called by his chief and sent on a dangerous mission. The parting instructions are: "If necessary, prove disloyal to your country." Kelly finds this hard but for the sake of the cause agrees.

The first to suffer because of his assumed disloyalty is his mother when he tells her he will not enlist. At his club he is forced to resign when his patriotism under question, he is forced to remain silent—and thus earns the contempt of his fellow men. Two visitors at the club, Harris and Shamme, under suspicion, do not realize that Kelly is playing for them. They approach him with congratulations on the firm stand he took against the American methods of his fellow members. Playing into their hands Kelly is finally invited to attend one of their meetings.

The story of his degradation at the club having preceded him to the home of his sweetheart, Rose Lockley, when Kelly calls he is ordered from the house by her father, Col. Lockley. Rose, sympathizing, realizes there must have been some reason for Phil's action.

At the meeting of the German agents Kelly learns of their plans to sink transports, and also, with the help of Lieut. Miles, whom Kelly has long suspected, how they expect to get plans which are in the possession of Col. Lockley. The meeting is broken up by the secret service, who had secretly been warned by Kelly, but he, together with Harris and Shamme, escapes. He is thus enabled to notify his chief and save the transports. Going to the home of Col. Lockley he defeats the purpose of Lieut. Miles. Just as he is leaving the house with the precious plans he meets Rose under circumstances which lead her to believe him a thief. He turns the plans over to her and goes away.

With Harris, Phil Kelly is snatched aboard a German submarine and sets out for Germany. On the western battle front Kelly, now an aviator in the German army, is known as No. 34—and called by the American troops "The Dove" because he never does any harm. Here he learns much of the frightfulness of the Hun. These deeds have changed Harris, who is still with him, until he wishes he were back on the other side. With the help of Harris he learns of a big German offensive. Before the battle he flies over the American lines and drops a message forestalling the attack. On the staff at the American headquarters are Col. Lockley and Rose, "doing her bit" as a motor driver.

With the information the Americans are enabled to outmaneuver the Hun and "go over the top" they sweep all before them and capture the German headquarters—just another step in the march of our boys on to Berlin. While the battle is raging a shell strikes the building in which Kelly is stationed and he is badly hurt. When the full comes he is found and under the gentle care of Rose his recovery is assured.

And those who have before looked on him with contempt now realize that he was ready to sacrifice his all—and his only reward was that freedom and justice might live. Enthusiastic over their success, the cry of the "Sammies" echoes and re-echoes along the great line: "Berlin or Bust!"

In addition to the feature a two-reel comedy called "The Neighbor's Keyhole," is also being shown. The same bill is being repeated today. Tomorrow Tom Mix will be seen in a western picture entitled "Ace High."

AT THE CASTLE. Carlyle Blackwell and June Elvidge have won a large and loyal following in their dramatic screen plays. In "The Crimson Dove," shown at the Castle today, both have roles that fit their talents perfectly. Mr. Blackwell plays a practical evangelist and it is the sort of a role he delights to portray. There are many dramatic situations, including the burning of a church and a fierce combat that will keep the spectators interested. The Universal weekly of news events is also shown.

On Wednesday Charlotte Walker, a popular dramatic actress, will be seen in "Men," a strong play of modern life.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG

IN ENGLISH DRAMA "The Reason Why," a drama of English life, with Clara Kimball Young prominent in the cast is seen again at the Castle today. The picture was shown on May 6 and made a most favorable impression. As the wife of an English lord who endeavors to keep from him the secret of her boy, the result of a former marriage, Miss Young finds many emotional opportunities. She is a painstaking, clever actress and the production is first class. "A Little Rhodes" comedy completes the bill.

Tomorrow, "Who Is to Blame," featuring Jack Livingston will be shown.

The Paper That Does Things

JUNE 25, 1918.

A BASIS FOR OUR ULTRA-OPTIMISM.

Approached, not less than a dozen times since our editorial of Monday, with criticism of our comment on the Austrian drive, charging us with "ultra-optimism," we guess it is about time for us to confess. Gentle reader, that editorial was an experiment, and it worked.Everyone who approached us on the subject, did so with a smile, hoping as we had wished—that it was so.
They came smiling critical, hoping that they were wrong, and we right, and we sent everyone of them away sour, moody, depressed. All we had to do was to admit that they who came were right, and they forthwith inclined to go away mad. Such is psychology. We are now disposed to revive their spirits by reasserting our former hopes, and our reasons upon which it is based.That drive was undertaken because Austria-Hungary had gone desperate. The house of Hapsburg was in sore need of a victory and a spectacular one to reunite the people in defense of their Prussian lords. All was staked on the drive against Italy. If it succeeded results seemed certain. If it failed it might mean disaster, it was decided to take the chance, and it was the chance that failed.Now look out for that disaster, internal, revolting, and the worst thing in the world for a nation at war. Watch Austria closely. The Austrian people are on rations.
The weekly food allowance for each person is given as follows:Twenty-two ounces of bread; one pound of potatoes, of which half cannot be eaten; one ounce of black bran mash; one ounce of another mill product; an ounce and a half of fat;
six and a half ounces of sugar; one egg; seven ounces of meat and a little jam and coffee substitute.The meat allowance is not dependable. It can only be obtained by waiting all night for it, so as to be near the head of the line.The quality of the food is mostly nasty beyond any experience of ours. As for the quantity, supposing it were all edible and nourishing, just divide the total by seven, and figure out how you would like to live on it for one day—and then contemplate a continuance of the menu days without end.There is political and racial discontent in Austria, but the main trouble is with the Austrian stomach. A nation, no less than an army, travels as Napoleon said,
"on its belly." The people are half-starved from lack of food, and made sick by what food they have. The soldiers at the front are but little better off. It is food, more than bullets, that is deciding the fate of Austria-Hungary today.The retreat in Italy; the awful rout, may not mean an immediate end of the war, but it will mean an awakening to that end. If the Austria-Hungarian civil population revolts, and quits, Germany will be finding herself bordering on the same bad shape that Russia found herself with the rise of the bolsheviks.COMMERCIALIZED VICE REGENTS AND THE WAR AGAINST VENEREAL DISEASE.Vice promoters are naturally opposed to the fight that the government is making against the spread of venereal disease, and South Bend with its liberal supply of them, is no exception. It is proposed through the state board of health, to put venereal disease upon much the same basis as respects medical reports and publicity, as is tuberculosis, smallpox, diphtheria and measles. We do not understand that it is planned to place every home that it has invaded, but why not?
A hospital for the disease is contemplated, and reports to the state board of health. It is a fight against the disease that is largely responsible for the physical un-fitnesses that have kept thousands of young men out of the American army. The enormity of the number of victims was never before half told.Men and women both, whether directly or remotely engaged in commercialized vice, naturally fear the movement, and have for their support a large throng of susceptibles, more or less frequent patrons of their game. Get this from one of them, and you can classify him most anywhere you mind to, sticking to the male sex, within the confines of the previous sentence:"It is the greatest blackmailing scheme ever invented. A man goes to a doctor, the doctor reports his difficulty, and ever thereafter he is susceptible to being held up lest it be made public; just another undertaking of the Anti-Saloon league. They think they have made the country cry and the next thing we know we will have to get a permit to kiss our wives."That dragging the Anti-Saloon league in was supposed to make a hit with us because we have been criticizing its state leaders somewhat recently; but that aside, if a man has a venereal disease he ought not be permitted to kiss his wife until he gets a proper permit; a certificate that he is cured, and she forgives him. Besides, as we see it, no one is going to get blackmailed for having taken treatment for venereal disease unless he has had it, and why not escape the blackmail by avoiding the disease? The law doesn'trequire anyone to desert his wife, or otherwise strike out on a lark and bring back a venereal disease, and need treatment for the protection of himself and society.
In order that he may go to a physician and be reported to the state board of health and become a possible object of blackmail! Shall we endanger the health, the lives, and the future of the nation with such a "black plague," just in order that a few sexual scoundrels need take no chances on being "held up?""Ah, but," they say, "the law cannot be enforced."
Perhaps not, in toto. But if not, what are they worrying about? Why worry about a rule or regulation that has no force to it? Mayor Carson told them:
at a meeting at the Oliver hotel the other night, when state officials were here to discuss the subject with local officials and the public, just how he would evade the law:"If I had such a disease I wouldn't go to a local doctor. I would run over to Chicago, get a physician there, give him a fictitious name, take my treatments and come home.""Yes," said Dr. King, of the state health board, "and the farmers might order their medicine from Sears, Roebuck & Co., but the undertaking will have an educational and deterring effect anyhow." Of course, the law will be evaded in spots. There never was a law or rule of action laid down that hasn't been evaded.
There are always wise gentlemen capable of figuring out ways and means of evading the law. "Big business" hires eminently respectable corporation lawyers by the year to teach it how to evade the law. Some people deliberately defy the law. If he is a man of means, or of position, or something of that kind, in the social scale, it is smart. If he is a plain, ordinary cuss, he is an anarchist.Neither these evasions, nor this defiance, nor the possibilities of blackmail, obviate the principle involved, and in a city running to commercialized prostitution at the rate that South Bend is traveling, decent people, and especially the women, should give this venereal disease movement unwavering support. It isn't the most polite of subjects, nor an angelic topic for social conversation
—but therefore, the more important that it should be vigorously handled. So prevalent has this "black plague" become that it almost sanctifies the war as a means of bringing it effectively to the government attention. Otherwise, in another generation, we might not have been able to raise a national army at all.

SHEEP OR DOGS? GARDENS OR CATS?

"One tear of sentiment washes away a mountain of reason," says Charles E. Gopen in a current magazine.
He goes on to tell of a senator who "drew a picture, a true picture, of the dog that follows his master with worshipful eyes even to the grave, and sleeps across it when other friends have deserted, and who thereby nearly killed the sheep business of the United States."
"In the light of statistics, logic, reason and experience there is little doubt of this. Not only have the dogs of the nation killed thousands of sheep, but they have discouraged the raising of millions more."When a nation gets right down to fundamentals and the food supply, wouldn't it rather eat mutton and wear wool than go hungry into its grave in order that its pet dog may sleep across it before he dies of starvation?Consider also the gardener. He is beset by a million pests. There are bugs and worms and living things in general whose existence he never dreamed of before he planted his first vegetables. In vain he sprays and studies and sprays again. His salvation is in the birds.
He puts out birdhouses and water pans to attract his singing allies. They heed his invitation, they congregate about his yard. They eat his worms and things.
Then, among them stalks his neighbor's cat. The destruction wrought by one cat among the birds can only be equalled by the ravages of a killer dog among sheep.In a battle against starvation, sense is a better weapon than sentiment.

WASTING GOOD NAILS.

"Every time you buy a Thrift stamp you drive a nail in the kaiser's coffin," sing out the sellers of stamps.
"Every bushel of wheat you save is a nail in the kaiser's coffin," plead the conservationists. "Every rivet in every new ship is a nail in the kaiser's coffin," maintain the shipbuilders.It is all interesting and appealing, and more or less true. But aren't we in danger of somewhat overworking a perfectly good figure of speech? And if all the nails we've been told about are driven into the six foot black box, will there be any room left in it for the kaiser?

Other Editors Than Ours

IF FOR NO OTHER REASON,
(Indiana Times.)There should be a profound distaste in every American soul for such remnants of autocracy as remain in the United States. This distaste should be the more pronounced when it is known that we share this autocracy with Germany and Austria, our enemies and the countries which are the examples of autocracy gone mad.The United States not yet has seen fit to enfranchise the women. When one goes into the suffrage question he must say, if he is honest, the United States, Germany and Austria do not permit women to vote. These countries continue the political degradation of the feminine population and before they have arrived on a truly democratic basis they must admit women to equality with men in the matter of voting.It is easy enough to point out a difference in the causes for the attitude toward women in the United States and the attitude toward women in Germany and Austria. We do have, in this country, thank God, a greater respect for women than they do in kaiserdom, but the political effect of the German policy and the United States' policy is the same. Women do not have a voice in their own government; they are denied the right of self-determination politically and yet, it is for this right of self-determination that has been named as one of our war aims.The people of Indiana should not rest until the women of the state have been made free, and the democratic party in Indiana, of a right, should be the champion of universal suffrage. Pres't Wilson has indicated the way in this particular and his party in that state should travel that way with a zeal and earnestness of purpose that will accelerate the accomplishment.In all the agitation for and against woman suffrage and prohibition no sound argument against the former and no sound argument in favor of the liquor business has been advanced. In both instances all the argument is on one side of the question.Ignoring the thousand and one reasons why women in the United States should enjoy full citizenship, even having a voice in legislation and the election of those who administer their government, if for no other reason than that autocratic Germany and Austria deny their women the right to vote, the United States should immediately place the ballot in the hands of the women of the country who are doing as much as the men to help win a war for democracy.

Let 'em cut the style and limit of her shoes,
Let 'em cut her fluff frills and laces down,
Let 'em name the cloth and colors she must use.
When she makes herself another summer gown,
Though they put a ban upon her furbelows,
Though they will not grant her feathers for her hat,
Though they even take away her silken hose,
We shall never know the difference at that.She will take whatever garments she can buy,
And she'll wear them with a little air and smile,
And whenever we observe her, You and I,
Will believe that she's the very pink of style.
If she has to, she can dress on what a man
Often loses in a friendly poker game.
She will buy the cheapest raiment that she can,
And be in the height of fashion just the same.If you give her all the money she can spend,
She can keep the garment builders on the jump,
Yet on anything a year you may depend
She will never bear a likeness to a frump.
Though the lords of all creation run to seed,
When they try to make their clothes last out the war,
It will not be so with women; no, indeed!

The Real Dangers of Teething

By Woods Hutchinson, M. D.

Toward the remoter and more serious general disturbances alleged to be due to teething, we are assuming an even more skeptical and "Missourian" attitude. In fact some radicals go so far as to declare that the only genuine teething troubles are those which occur within an inch of the top of the rising tooth! This is probably going too far, but, there can be little question that very many, if not most, of the Pandora's box of evils so easily and confidently attributed to erupting teeth, as if the little ivory pegs were genuine dragon's teeth like those of Cadmus, are clearly traceable to three groups of causes whose only connection with the teeth is that they happen to operate in the same months and years of life.First, and probably most frequent, is the fact that the appearance of the teeth is nature's sign and index that the child is reaching an age when he needs and demands solid foods in addition to the "liquid meat" which has been his exclusive diet so far. This, of course, opens wide the flood gates to a perfect torrent of possible mishaps, the injudicious kindness of his doting relatives, who insist upon treating him to a taste of their favorite indigestible, the mistakes of his inexperienced parents, the carelessness of his nurses and, last but not least, his own firm and unquenchable conviction that the whole wide world was made to eat and his corresponding determination to thrust every bit of it that he can get his pink paws on into his mouth. Whenever the infant Columbus, sailing an uncharted food Atlantic, registers colic, a finger is hastily thrust into his mouth, a recent or approaching ivory peg discovered, and the whole blame laid upon its pearly head. It is so much less trouble than hunting out the real cause and trying to avoid it in future.Secondly, the months in which eruptions of the teeth are most rapid and constant, from the ninth to the 18th, roughly speaking, are also those in which the baby ceases to be a poly anchored to its crib or its nurse's lap and enters upon the crab stage of its existence with rapid and indiscriminate scuttlings about in every direction. As it is only capable of movement in two planes, its royaume of exploration are confined to the floor, or surface of the earth, and whatever may have lodged there. In fact, a baby at this stage is an animated combination of carpet sweeper and vacuum cleaner, and the number and variety of specimens which it will succeed in bagging in the course of a busy day would make a bacteriologist's hair stand on end. He is the original duster with a damp cloth, only he doesn't trouble to shake the dust out of himself afterwards.For fear his hands might not be moist enough to collect well, a horrible invention called a pacifier is often given him with which he can scrape the carpet and pat the dog and curry the cat, and thus be sure of a full and well-flavored assortment in his mouth.As he gradually achieves the upright position and the triumph of toddling, he ranges still further afield and comes in contact with another class of dangers, namely the infections of children's diseases. And as many of these first begin to show themselves in the nose and throat and mouth or about the face, it is quite easy to confuse them with any little swelling of the gums caused by a budding tooth. Further as has already been suggested, when their poisons begin circulating in the blood, they have a keen eye for the weak spot and quickly turn a rapidly growing, sensitive spot with a rich supply of blood, like a developing tooth, into a seat of inflammation and pain.Last, but not least, for over two years a baby is steadily cutting teeth at an average rate of about one a month. People will insist upon having a cause for everything, and anycalamity which befalls during the first three years of life after the sixth month, without clear and ascertainable cause, can always be promptly furnished with a freshly cut ivory peg which it may be hung. When a baby or very young child suffers pain anywhere in the region of the head, whether in the brain or the ear, the gums or the throat, all the little sufferer can do is to roll his head from side to side, so far as any movement which helps to localize the pain is concerned.Furthermore, when a baby has headache or fever or sore throat, it is apt to be thirsty and hot or dry in the mouth, so that it eagerly bites or sucks at anything between its lips, to cause a flow of saliva.
This is probably one of the main reasons why convulsions of all sorts in childhood are so commonly ascribed to teething. We are inclined to regard them more seriously than we once did for most of them are due either to the beginning of a serious fever or to some form of meningitis, or inflammation of the membranes covering the brain, most commonly cerebro-spinal meningitis or tuberculosis meningitis. Or they may be a form of epilepsy, for not a few epileptics give a history of convulsions in early childhood. But that genuine convulsions are ever caused by or even aggravated by teething is extremely doubtful.

ONCE-OVERS

WHAT DID YOU SAY?

Do you know that every order or statement which must be repeated needlessly is wasted time and effort?With some it is a habit to say,
"What's that?" or "What did you say?" to every single thing which is said to them all day long?Some persons require a thing to be repeated several times before they seem to get the sense of the remark or question.Parents and teachers can accomplish great good in cultivating the habit of attention and general alertness by refusing to repeat statements under penalty more or less severe, according to circumstances.The old saying, "There are none so deaf as those who won't hear," might apply to the "What did you say?" persons.Actual deafness is distressing for the one who must understand without hearing, and equally as distressing for those who are not accustomed to the various methods of communication between those who cannot hear.But what of the many persons who will not take the trouble to interpret what their ears certainly hear, and so to make up for their laziness are always saying, "Pardon me, but what did you say?" or the ungracious "What?"
The finest courtesy pays the strictest attention.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

By Adele Garrison

"Her temperature has risen, and she is not responding to the treatment as I had hoped, although it is really too soon to judge of that. I will tell you frankly that I am afraid we are going to have a fight on our hands, and we must have skilled help. She has changed her mind about trained nurses, and now says her daughter-in-law can take care of her well enough." He bowed to me, and I was sure there was a slight twinkle. "But we must risk nothing else but the best of trained skill with that heart of hers."

"But, doctor," Dicky said anxiously, "where can we find a nurse?" I went through the entire list you gave me without securing one, and then had to get the makeshift you have just seen, through an agency."

"Fortunately," Dr. Pettit rejoined, "I have just learned that absolutely the best nurse I know is free. Her name is Miss Katherine Sonnot, and her skill and common sense are only equalled by her exquisite tact. She is just the person to handle the case, and if you will give me the use of your phone I think I can have her here within an hour."

"Women-like, I thought I detected a romance. The tenderness in his voice could mean but one thing, that he admired, perhaps loved the woman he had praised so extravagantly."

He came directly to me from the telephone.

"Will you kindly continue the treatment I outlined until Miss Sonnot gets here?" he said. "Remove the mustard plasters now, and bathe the skin where they have rested with a little olive oil. Then try to let her sleep as much as possible. She must not be disturbed any more than is necessary. She has been much upset since I was here."

I made no reply to this speech, although he evidently expected one. I felt, as Dicky would say, that it was not "up to" me to tell home of the nurse's delinquencies.

After he went away, promising to return in the evening, I busied myself with the services to my mother-in-law he had asked me to perform, and then sat down to wait for Miss Sonnot. Dicky wandered in and out like a restless ghost until I wanted to shriek from very nervousness.

But the first glimpse of the slender girl who came quietly into the room and announced herself as Miss Sonnot steadied me. She was a "slip of a thing," as my mother would have dubbed her, with great would have dubbed her, with great her delicate face. But there was an air of efficiency about her every movement that made you confident she would succeed in anything—she undertook.

I have always been such a difficult, reserved sort of woman that I have never, Dicky's friends, I did not understand the impulse that made me resolve to win this girl's friendship if I could.

One thing I knew. The grave, sweet face, the steady eyes told me. One could lay a loved one's life in those slim, capable hands and rest assured that as far as human aid could go it would be safe.

"The Crisis Passed."

"Your mother will live. She has passed the danger point."

As Dr. Pettit uttered the words, Dicky gave a quick sob of relief and tightened the clasp of his arm about me. We had been standing huddled together like two frightened children while we waited for the physician's verdict.

For the fight Dr. Pettit was predicted when he summoned Miss Sonnot to the case had been a grim fight for life. My mother-in-law had not had pneumonia, although she had come as near to it as possible. But when that attack was averted she had experienced one heart attack after another until we had despaired of her recovery. The news that she would live was almost as surprising as it was welcome.

"How can I ever thank you, Dr. Pettit? You have saved my mother's life. Dicky's words were lame enough, but their sincerity was evidenced by his tense face and shining eyes."

"Not I," Dr. Pettit shook his head, smiling. "The little lady in the bedroom is the one you have to thank. Without her skill in nursing we could never have pulled your mother through. And there is another person to whom thanks are due."

He stopped and smiled at me, one of the rare smiles which light up his face when he is especially gratified. I felt a curious little thrill of pride at his look, although I was hardly embarrassed.

"We should have had to secure the services of another nurse besides Miss Sonnot if it had not been for your wife," Dr. Pettit went on. "I did not want two nurses on the case on account of your mother's precarious condition—it would have moved her to get used to another stranger. But your wife, with her unusual experience in caring for the heart attacks of her own mother, was able to give Miss Sonnot the rest she needed. You really ought to have been a nurse, Mrs. Graham."

"Heaven forbid!" said Dicky fervently. Then he kissed me tenderly. I flushed to my temples, for I much disliked his giving me the caress with Dr. Pettit's eyes upon us. But Dicky was oblivious of my discomfort.

JUST ABOUT RIGHT.

As collars become old and worn they get extremely rough on the edges. And, unless they are ironed just about right, they will scratch your neck and make you mighty uncomfortable. Our way obviates this trouble entirely, because it smooths down the rough edges absolutely, and gives the collar a velvety, comfortable feeling to your neck. Phone Davies Laundry & Cleaning Co.—Adv.

MORE CORN BREAD.

One of the first war breads to become popular was corn bread. With every steaming piece of spoon bread lifted from the casserole, the patriotic housewife feels the proud glow of a well aimed bayonet charge at the enemy. Every time a piece of corn bread is served at the table with a whitish color and a suspiciously sweetish taste, she feels that though she has made a personal attack on the enemy, the weapon was a little blunted or that the charge didn't quite go on.

Maybe using a large part white flour was compromise with the "Husband" who "can't stand too much corn taste." And maybe the added spoonful of sugar was to make it more palatable to Johnny and Susie who tease for "that bread that tastes like cake."

Every little bit helps, however, and it has been this partial substitution of other cereals that has gradually accustomed the conservative family to a war-time bread. Now, however, it is "nifty-ifty." That is, the housewife must buy as much of other cereals as she has wheat, but it is left to individual taste and discretion how this shall be used. Some may be served as a vegetable, such as hominy and rice, and others as a flour admixture for breads and pastry. But all this will stabilize the effort to save food and apportion the selling fairly among all classes of consumers.

Accustom your family to more and more of another cereal in their bread and if corn breads are still a favorite with them and the meat is easily available in your locality, give them varied kinds of corn bread as often as possible.

Another conservation measure in making a liquid mixture like corn bread is that a liquid fat may always be used, such as a vegetable oil. The following recipe is for corn bread without eggs:

Easy Corn Bread.

2 cups corn meal.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 teaspoons fat.
1-1/4 cups boiling water.

Pour the boiling water over the other materials. Beat well. When cool, form into thin cakes and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Makes 11 biscuits.

These crisp little biscuits are good with butter or gravy. Eat them with your meat and vegetables.

O'LEARY JUROR UNDER FEDERAL INDICTMENT, TRIAL INTERRUPTED

NEW YORK, June 25.—The trial of John J. O'Leary, brother of Jeremiah A. O'Leary, indicted Irish agitator, for conspiring to assist Jeremiah to escape the court's jurisdiction, came to an abrupt end Monday afternoon when it was learned one of the jurors was under a federal indictment. The name of the juror and his alleged offense was not revealed, but both the government and O'Leary's counsel agreed to a mistrial.

The new trial was set for June 26 and in the meantime O'Leary was freed under $10,000 bail. Formerly bail was fixed at $100,000.

CIVILIAN POPULATION OF AUSTRIA IS PLACED ON HORSE MEAT RATION

GENEVA, June 25.—Dr. Paul, the Austrian food administrator, has announced at Vienna that eight ounces of beef and two pounds of horse flesh will be supplied to the people weekly, said a dispatch received Monday, giving the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger as its authority.

Military postal authorities will be utilized in Vienna supplying about 100,000 persons with warm meals for four weeks.

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES

No class of people devotes so much time to beauty as actresses, and no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only use a package of Canthox from your drugist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy it will look much better than it is. Its texture and softness will delight you, while the stimulus scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv.

YANKEES MAKE SIX BOOTS, BUT WIN GAME

NEW YORK, June 25.—New York defeated Boston in the first game of a four-game series in which the Yankees had an opportunity to oust the Red Sox from the leadership. New York won 3 to 2 in a ninth inning rally notwithstanding wretched fielding, as six errors were made behind Moogridge, who permitted only three hits and no earned runs. Peckinpaugh walked in the ninth and advanced to third on Baker's single and scored the tying run on Pratt's sacrifice fly. Pipp then hit into the upper right field stand for what ordinarily would have been a home run, sending Baker in with the winning tally. NOTRE DAME ATHLETE AND SPORT WRITER TO ENTER ENSIGN SCHOOL

Another versatile athlete whose brilliant performances on the cinder path of the season past have contributed largely to Notre Dame's well earned victories in intercollegiate competition, will soon enter the service of Uncle Sam at the United States ensign school at the municipal pier in Chicago. Charles Warren Call, a consistent point winner and mauler of Coach Rockne's track team, received notice from the United States officers to be ready for duty in a few days. After completing the four-year course in journalism Call remained at the university to complete another special course in advanced mathematics and navigation given by the courtesy of the Notre Dame faculty for those students who enlisted in the ensign school.

With a stiff schedule on hand and lack of dependable men on the squad Coach Rockne called upon Call to do much more work on the race track than he did from the other men in normal times. However, Call acquitted himself most creditably whenever called upon to participate in more than one running event. Before the season was over this young aspiring journalist gained the reputation as one of the best distance men in the west, having beaten the crack teamsters of Illinois university and the Michigan Aggies. In the first indoor meet of the season Call ran a pretty race in the half mile and the mile, defeating two veterans by a good margin.

CUDGEL, FOUR YEAR OLD, WINS BROOKLYN RACE

NEW YORK, June 25.—Cudgel, the four-year-old colt by Brownstick-Eugenia, owned by Commander J. K. L. Ross, a Canadian naval officer, and cleverly ridden by Jockey Lyke, won the Brooklyn handicap, one mile and a furlong, over the Queens county Jockey club's race track Monday. The winner, which was the public favorite, carried the top impost of 129 pounds, just the judges' length ahead of Andrew Miller's aged gelding Roamer, with John Sanford's five-year-old George Smith third, four lengths away. The time of the race, 1:50 1-5, just one second behind the track record for this distance, made by H. P. Whitney's Borewar in this event last year. The winning owner's portion of the stake was $4,850.

AUSTRIAN PRESS AT STRING'S END

Has Exhausted All Arguments to Justify Her Troop's Failure.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Austrian press having exhausted all its arguments to justify the complete failure of the first phase of the offensive on the Italian front, has resumed publishing false statements regarding Italy's internal conditions and is making assertions aiming to create dissensions among the allies, says an official dispatch from Rome Monday afternoon.

The truth is, says the dispatch, that never was the Italian nation quieter and more serenely confident of the war's final issue. It adds that reports of anti-war demonstrations in Milan, Rome and Turin are absolutely false, and that moreover in many cities there have been warm manifestations of sympathy and recognition of the army's heroic performance.

Denying reports spread by the German government that the Italian command sent to France troops made up of the remains of the second army thrusts, the dispatch says these contingents were picked from those troops who were Monday giving fresh proof of their valor on the plateaus of Italy and along the Piave.

BRITISH-U. S. DRAFT TREATY RATIFIED

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Treaties between the United States and Great Britain for reciprocal operation of army draft laws to their citizens, including Canadians, were ratified late Monday by the senate without a dissenting vote.

British subjects in the United States between 20 and 44 years of age—the British draft ages—and American citizens in the British empire, between the ages of 21 and 41, would be subject to draft under the treaties, but they would be given the option of returning to their own countries for service under their own flag.

It is estimated that some 24,000 American citizens in the British empire, including 20,000 in Canada, and 210,000 British subjects in the United States, including 60,000 Canadians, will be affected by the treaties. A new clause inserted in the treaty provides that citizens of signatory nations exempt from the draft at home, such as the Irish and Australians, shall not be subject to draft in the country of their foreign residence.

Too late, Pa. Furs are in season—

Perhaps We Have Talked Too Much About The "Hot Spot" and the "Ram's-Horn"

Some Chalmers owners tell us that we have not done the car full justice in our advertisements of late, by emphasizing these two mechanical features to the exclusion of others.

Now perhaps they are right in that and yet—we do not wholly agree with them.

If we have tried to impress you with the fact that Chalmers engineers had evolved in these two features, something of inestimable value to you and of almost revolutionary influence on automobile engineering, surely the space was not wasted.

Besides, we assumed of course that you already knew the Chalmers to be one of the best motor cars ever built.

The Chalmers has always been a great motor car—speaking of the car in general terms.

For many years past you and every other motor-wise person have considered it among the first two or three high class cars.

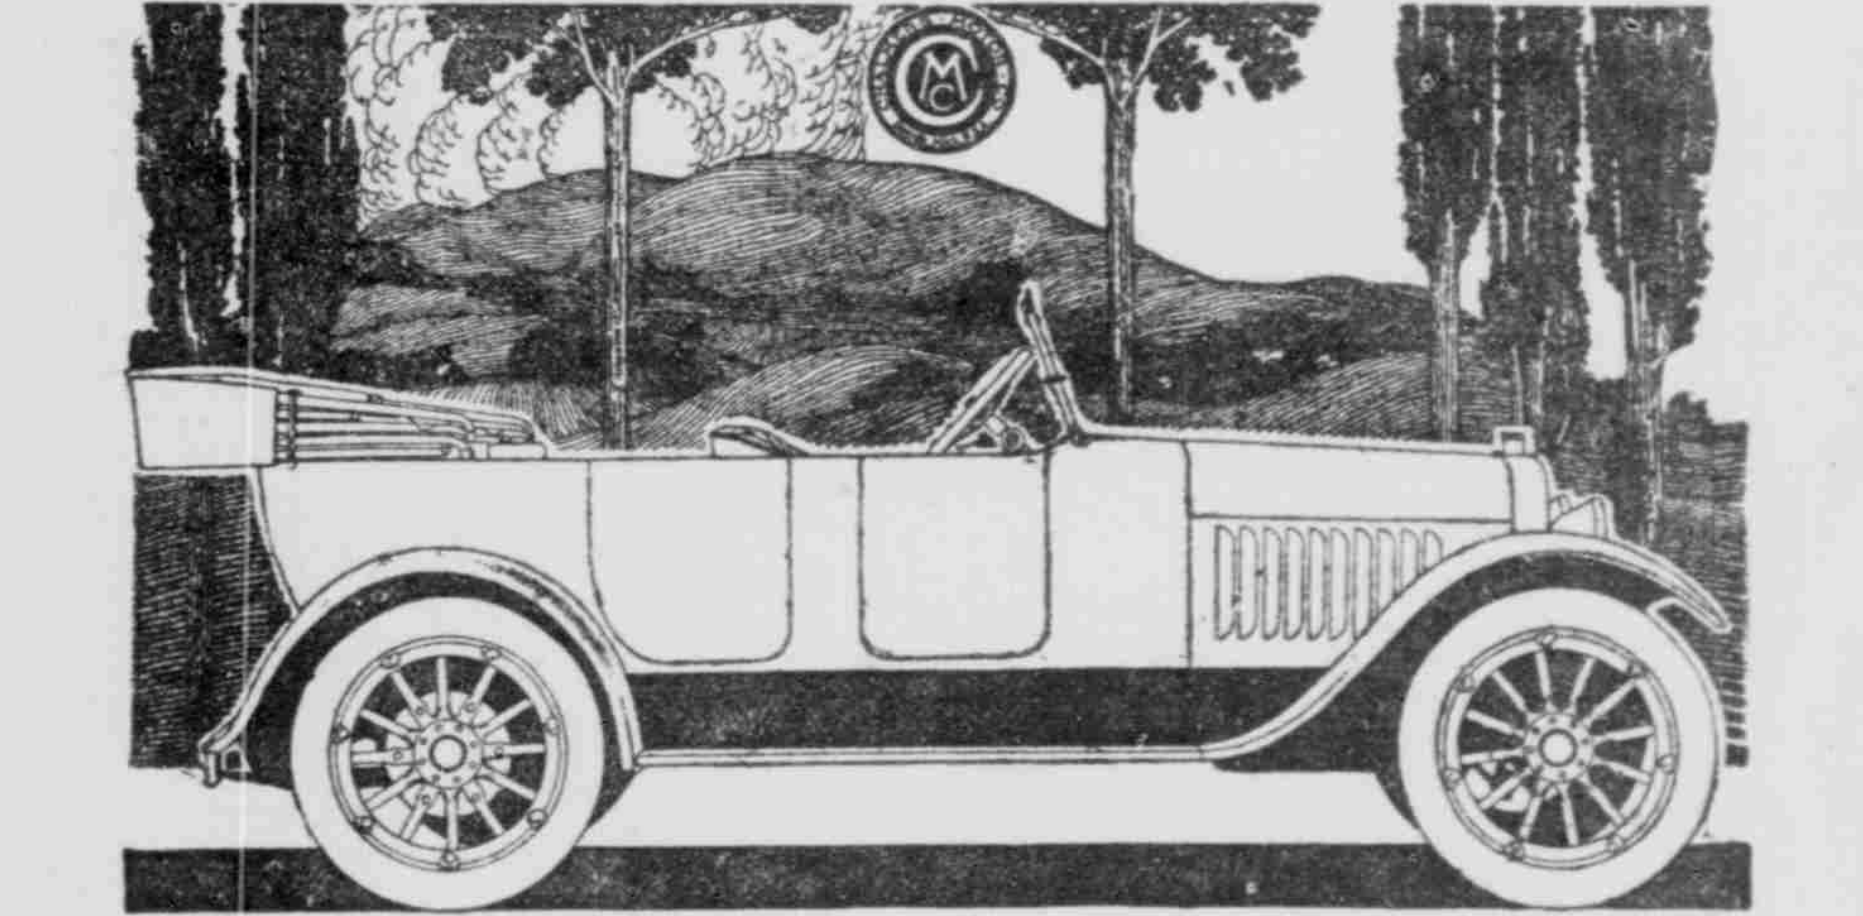

And we did feel that in the two features above mentioned, we had added to excellence of finish, smoothness and easy riding qualities, an engineering discovery that made this luxurious Chalmers also more economical to operate and thereby placed it in a class by itself.

If we have erred in this we will change and tell you about other Chalmers features, on any one of which a volume might be written.

But—are you sure you fully appreciate what a tremendous difference the "Hot Spot" and the "Ram's-Horn" combination make in the power and economy and the smoothness of an automobile?

Certainly not all buyers do appreciate that—for some are still buying other cars!

And we can't imagine anyone buying any other car in this class if he knew the difference—and could get a Chalmers.

JITNEY DRIVERS BOOST PRICES

Many Complain to Police of Efforts to Hold Them Up at Certain Hours.

Those who are at times compelled to ride in jitneys between Mishawaka and South Bend are loud in their complaint against the efforts of the owners of these conveyances to boost the fare on every possible occasion. When the service was first established the fare was five cents, but it was easy to see that there was nothing in it at this figure for the owners of the cars, who raised the price to a dime. Now that the number of jitneys doing business between the two cities has been reduced to less than half a dozen, their owners are demanding 15 cents one way, while after 6 o'clock they make extortionate demands if one does not take the precaution to come to an understanding before the trip starts. Many complaints have been made to the police authorities in this connection and some action by the city is likely to be taken before long. One of their number is under indictment at the present time for speeding. He was

MEDICINE WHISKY IS LATEST THING

New Prohibition Drink Contains Only 14 Percent Alcohol—Case in Court.

Is a beverage containing 14 percent alcohol a temperance drink? This was the case, according to the defense in the trial of Mary and Alois De Beck, charged with breaking the Indiana prohibition law. What is the difference between medicine whisky and whisky sold before the saloons went out was another question raised. City Judge Feig determined that a drink, whether rainwater or milk, which contained 14 percent alcohol was hardly a soft drink, and that there was not much difference between medicine whisky and regular wine. He accordingly found Mary De Beck guilty of selling intoxicating liquor, but postponed the sentence. Alois was found not guilty. He claimed he was selling the so-called medicine whisky under the impression that it was not a violation of the state law.

A quart bottle of the mixture, termed medicine whisky, was introduced as evidence, but as one of the witnesses showed a keen desire to sample the evidence it was ruled out. Mike Roskopf and Mike Billets were the witnesses for the state. An interpreter was used to get some of their evidence. They claimed that they had bought drinks of medicine whisky from Mrs. De Beck and that it had made Mike Billets drunk. They paid 20 cents a drink for the concoction. The drinks were served in the kitchen. The defense admitted that the booze had been sold, but only as medicine.

John Shinoski, who was arrested Monday night for intoxication drew a fine of $2 and costs. He arranged to pay and was released.

GOING TO FRANCE SOON.

Mrs. Charles Ainlay, W. Third st., received a letter from her nephew, Walter Ralph of the 33rd field artillery, Camp Fremont, Fla., in which he said he expected to be moved to Fort Sill, Okla., for six weeks' intensive training preparatory to leaving for France. Many Mishawaka boys are in this company.

W. S. S. CAMPAIGN PROSPECTS FINE

Enthusiasm Marks Canvass.
Places of Meeting Arranged Through City.

Workers in the War Savings stamp campaign are enthusiastic over the prospects of success in their efforts to again place Mishawaka in an honorable position in its war enterprises. Members of the home guards worked incessantly during Monday and until late in the evening.

No doubt is felt as to the city's ability to subscribe its full quota, and to spare, and when the campaign closes it is taken as granted that there will be a cheerful surprise for all interested.

The following places of meeting have been arranged with a chairman for each: First precinct, first ward, St. Peter's Lutheran school, W. C. Stone, second precinct, Presbyterian church, Dr. Burnett; second ward, high school, D. W. Horton; third ward, first precinct, Christian church, W. L. Chandler; second precinct, St. Joseph's hall, Rev. L. A. Moench; fourth ward, first precinct, Evangelical church, George B. Williams; second precinct, first Baptist church, Mayor Gaylord; first ward, Battell school, C. A. Ostrom. These places will serve as headquarters for meetings during the week as well as for information bureaus, where all matter pertaining to the campaign will be explained.

EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOL TO PICNIC

Sixty members of the St. Paul's Episcopal church Sunday school will leave Mishawaka Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in automobiles for Eagle lake where they will hold their annual picnic.

A program of games and contests has been arranged for the afternoon's entertainment by Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Rogers and the teachers of the Sunday school. Boating will also be one of the features. At 5:30 o'clock a dinner will be served at the French hotel.

SENATE O. K.'S ADVANCING RANK OF GEN. BARNETT

WASHINGTON, June 25.—As expected, the senate stood squarely behind its conference on the naval bill Monday afternoon and insisted that the commandant of the marine corps, Maj. Gen. Barnett, be elevated to the rank of lieutenant general.

Last week the house voted against giving the marine corps' commandant this rank. Today Sen. Tillman reported this house action formally to the senate, which voted its insistence upon the amendment which it had inserted in the bill. The senate conferees will now report back to the conference and the matter will eventually be forced back to the house for another vote.

POISON INJECTED INTO ARM CAUSES DEATH OF ONE, ARREST OF OTHER

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 25.—David Howard, 264 W. 38th st., New York, faced a charge of murder Monday as the result of the death of Clyde Hundley, which occurred at a local hospital. In a lucid moment following his arrival here, Hundley asserted Howard injected a drug into his arm, from the results of which he immediately lost consciousness.

125,000,000 MARKS IS GERMANY'S WAR DEBT

AMSTERDAM, June 25.—The reichstag this week will be asked to pass a new vote of credit of 15,000,000 marks, according to the Berliner Tageblatt. This will raise Germany's war debt to 125,000,000 marks.

Boat Sunk Off Delaware Capes Was Britisher

WASHINGTON, June 25.—German submarines operating on this side of the Atlantic ocean have sunk their first troop ship. The navy department announced Monday that a British transport under charter by the American government and bound to this country, had been destroyed June 18, some 700 miles east of the Delaware capes, and that 67 members of the crew are missing. There were no troops aboard.

The troop ship apparently was not under convoy, the submarine was not seen until a torpedo struck the ship. Afterwards the submersible rose to the surface and fired 13 shots into the sinking vessel. When the steamer settled the crew took to the boats, the occupants of four of which number 31 men have been landed. Three boats are missing and a search is being made for them.

Believed Raider Was Home Bound.
The fact that the British vessel was sunk far off the coast, led officials to believe that she either had encountered a home-bound submarine that had been operating in American waters or else that it was bound here to aid in the raids. The fact that the sea wolves which first appeared off the coast late last month had not been heard from since June 14 caused most officials to hold to the first theory.

The last shinkins reported off the coast occurred some 30 miles east of the Virginia capes and it was argued that in the four days elapsing before the British transport was sent down the submarine would have had ample time to reach the position where the troop ship was sunk.

Name of Lost Boat Not Given.
The vessel destroyed was said to have been the former Russian steamer Drinsk, but the navy department was not permitted to make the name public under an agreement with the British admiralty. The Drinsk is understood to have been in British service and chartered to the United States to expedite the movement of American troops to France.

Of the four boats from the steamer accounted for, two were found by a steamer and their occupants taken to New York, a third was picked up by another steamer and the fourth by a sailing vessel, which landed the crew at Bermuda.

This is the statement made Monday by K. F. Cooper, vice president of the Air Nitrates company of New York. The plant will employ 1,000 acres and employ 2,000 men.

DRAFT AGE MEN ROUNDED UP IN BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, June 25.—More than 700 men of draft age were rounded up by the police in the Brooklyn district of Brooklyn Monday and taken to police stations where they were questioned by federal agents concerning their registration cards.

The raid was prompted by local draft officers who were disappointed in the registration of June 4 and who had learned that circulars had been distributed urging all young men to resist being illegally inducted into the army.

TWO MARINE AVIATORS KILLED AS PLANE DROPS

MAINT, Fla., June 25.—Lieut. Duncan C. Cameron of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Sergt. Ernest L. Ahlstrom of Chicago, both members of the marine corps aviation section, were instantly killed at Curtis field, near here, late Monday when an airplane in which they were making a practice flight fell about 900 feet. A broken control rod was believed to have been the cause of the accident.

GERMANY DECLINES TO AID RUSSIAN SHIPPING

LONDON, June 25.—An untended dispatch received here from Moscow says that Germany has declined to guarantee the immunity of Russian shipping in the White sea. The declaration was made in reply to Foreign Minister Tschernob's note to Germany protesting against the sinking of Russian craft in the White sea by submarines.

BRITISH TRANSPORT MAY HAVE LOST 67 OF CREW

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Sixty-seven members of the crew may have perished when a British transport under American charter, was sunk by a German submarine on June 18, 700 miles east of the Delaware capes, the navy department announced Monday afternoon. The vessel, westbound, carried no troops.

REP. MONDELL ATTACKS ZONE SYSTEM OF RATES

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The zone system of postal rates for second class mail matter was attacked in the house Monday by Rep. Mondell of Wyoming, as being unpatriotic and un-American, particularly at this time when all the agencies of the nation are needed to maintain a national spirit.

INDIANA AND MICHIGAN STATE HAPPENINGS

PLAN TREATMENT
FOR WHEAT SMUT

Hot Weather Process Proves Valuable by Experimentors at Purdue.

The value of the hot water method in the treatment of wheat seed to prevent grain smut was never better shown than in a field in Shelby county which was visited by G. N. Hoffer of the botanical division of Purdue university. Sixty-two farmers from the same locality and County Agent Russell G. East were with him, all inspecting the tract.

In a field which was sown with treated seed, the 62 farmers, county agent and Mr. Hoffer found only three heads of wheat which were afflicted with smut. In the other field, only an eighth of a mile away, which was sown with untreated seed from the same bin, there was 22 per cent smut, or 22 heads out of every 100 drying up to a powder and blowing away.

This seed was treated by being left in water at a temperature of 130 degrees for 15 minutes. Mr. Hoffer showed that the farmers of Shelby county could have received $150,000 more for their wheat this year if all had treated their seed last fall. This year that county has 52,400 acres of wheat. The average yield for these is upward of 30 bushels, but figuring it at only 15 bushels, the total yield for the county would be 786,000 bushels, which is worth $1,572,000 at $2 a bushel. If the loss from smut is 10 per cent, it means a loss of 78,600 bushels, which sends the total in dollars above $150,000.

The points were brought out so clearly that 18 of the men agreed at once to support a central seed treating station next fall and have at least part of their seed treated so that next year's crop or part of it will be free from disease, and they can supply many other farmers in their county with clean seed wheat. This one demonstration apparently will result in a widespread movement in Shelby county and throughout the state for better seed.

Robert Martin, former widely known Elkhart resident, who was arrested some time ago with a Russian in New York by the federal authorities, was found guilty by a jury, of espionage on four counts, and a sentence of 20 years' imprisonment was imposed on the defendant.

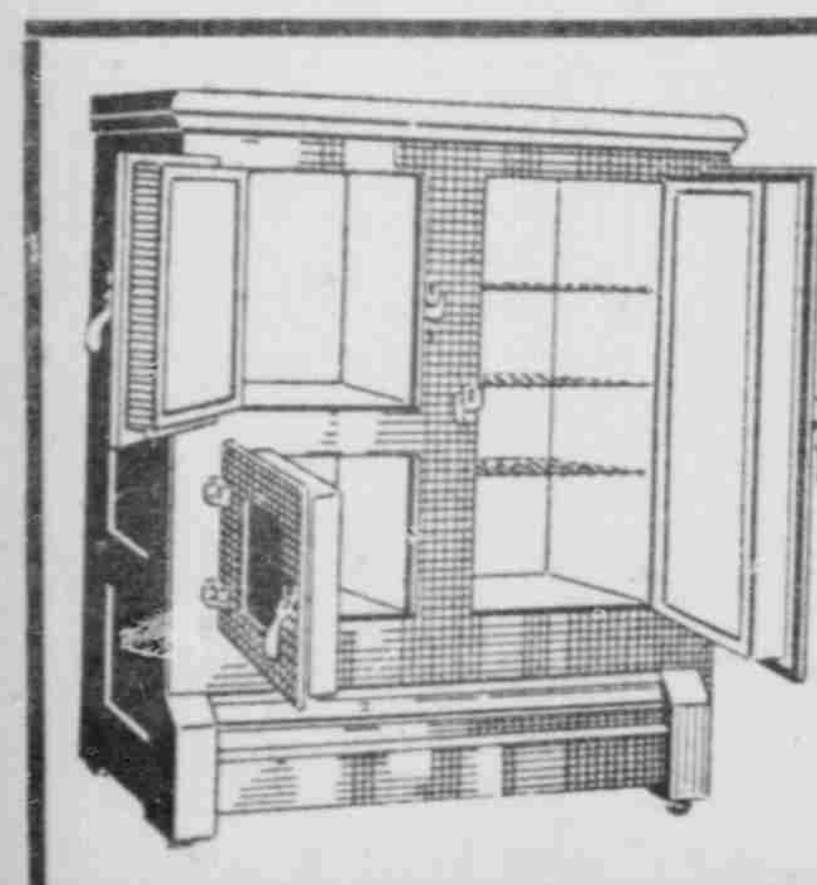

Mr. Martin was born and raised in Elkhart, leaving that city a number of years ago when he became identified with the Russelites. At one time he was prominent in democratic politics in that city, having served as county secretary. He was employed for many years in the offices of the New York Central railroad.

Mrs. Kate Lewallen, 52 years old, wife of E. A. Lewallen, died in general hospital at Elkhart. Death resulted from bowel trouble following a long illness. A husband, three daughters and a son, William E. Lewallen, now in France with the American forces, survive. The body was taken to Lagrange Monday for burial.

Charles Dreher, a prominent resident of Orland, Ind., where he is engaged in the automobile business, is in a serious condition at general hospital in Elkhart suffering from injuries sustained when he endeavored to commit suicide Saturday by shooting himself in the head. The shooting occurred in Elkhart where the man had been transacting business. Dependence is given as the cause of his attempt to kill himself. Monday afternoon it was not certain whether the patient would recover.

Goshen News

As a result of an automobile wreck as they were enroute to their home from Ohio points, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Fisher and Mrs. Slawson are in the Lakeside hospital at Kendallville suffering from serious injuries, while Bert Bortner, owner and driver of the machine, which was badly damaged, escaped serious injury. The accident occurred Saturday five miles east of Kendallville, located near what is known as the "county jog," a very poor stretch of highway. It is stated that Mr. Bortner was driving at a very fast rate of speed when he struck this portion of the highway, causing him to lose control of his car when it started skidding toward the ditch. The car turned a complete somersault, pinning the four occupants of the machine under the wreckage.

Mrs. Caroline Kelly, 87 years old, widow of Mathew Kelly, formerly of this city, died at her home in Waterloo, Ia., where she had resided for a number of years. Infirmities of old age resulted in her death.

Surviving are one son, H. B. Kelly, and two grand children, Mrs. Roy P. Tromp and Leon Kelly, residents of this city. The late Clark Kelly of Goshen was a son.

The body will arrive tomorrow afternoon on the N. Y. C. at 1:12 o'clock, and will be taken to Oak Ridge cemetery where short funeral services will be conducted by Rev. H. C. Harman.

A War Savings stamps meeting, held in the auditorium of the public library at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon was largely attended. Sergt. Charles E. Bisset sent by the Indiana director of the War Savings organization, delivered an interesting address. Sergt. Bisset belongs to the 19th Canadian battalion. He was in Flanders and spent five months on the famous Ypres salient. Sergt. Bisset was invalided home with trench fever, and for three weeks has been making War Savings addresses in various parts of the state. During his talk Monday afternoon he gave much interesting information.

It was stated Monday afternoon by Clerk Martin that questionnaires would be mailed Monday evening or Tuesday to those registering on June 5.

A genuine coca cola famine is threatened in Goshen. Local dealers Monday said they had but a very small supply of coca cola on hand and that it is impossible to get shipments. Stocks of near beers are being placed as a substitute.

An unusually severe frost, declared to be among the heaviest ever known in this section at this time of the year, Sunday morning caused very heavy damage to crops on lowlands in East Goshen the loss is very heavy.

Corn, beans and potatoes are in a great many places entirely ruined. The frost was freakish, missing some of the farms and bringing ruination to others.

War gardens suffered and Monday it was said by farmers from various sections of the county that the frost has caused exceptionally heavy losses.

Chas. Schrock, mint grower, who owns a large tract of land east of Goshen, estimates his loss at not less than $2,000, and possibly much more. On the high ground the frost was not killing.

George A. Creiger, Jr., and Marie M. Howard, both of Goshen. Waldemath Lucke, Elkhart, and Lucille Burkhardt of Mishawaka.

GASTON MURDER TRIAL
STARTS AT WINCHESTER

WINCHESTER, Ind., June 25.—The work of securing a jury to try Derilus Trout of Gaston for the murder of Charles V. Milholland of the same place was begun here Monday. The case was transferred to the Randolph county courts from Delaware county on a change of venue demanded by the defendant. No jurors had definitely been accepted at noon. Several farmers were on the panel and an agreement was reached to relieve them of jury duty as far as possible.

The Milholland case is one of the most puzzling ever handled by the Delaware county authorities. Milholland and Trout, who is 56 years old, were neighbors. On the night of March 11 Trout visited Milholland and is alleged to have given him "something" for headache. Milholland died later in convulsions and traces of strychnine were found in his stomach. Trout was not arrested or since then.

ITALY IS ABLAZE
WITH GLADNESS

Great Rejoicing Takes Place
as Austrians are Forced Back Across the Piave

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Italy is ablaze with enthusiasm and joy as the result of the Italian victory along the Piave, the Italian embassy was advised today in a cablegram from Rome. Beyond telling of the effective cooperation of the Italian sea forces with the army, the message added little to previous accounts of the Austrian retreat.

"The enemy," said the dispatch, "has been beaten back across the Piave from Montello to the sea. Italy is ablaze with enthusiasm and joy."

"The Italian navy has effectively cooperated to the defeat of the enemy by battering the positions along the Tagliamento river and north of Castellazzo, while the marine battalions operating along the lower Piave advanced and captured hundreds of prisoners."

"The Austrian aviators made an incursion on Brindisi. Of nine planes which took part in the expedition two were shot down and the others forced to retire without doing any damage. In retaliation Italian and British aviators bombed Cattaro and Durazzo."

"A great demonstration of greeting to Italy and the oppressed nationalities of Austria was held this afternoon in the gardens of the British embassy by initiative of the British ambassador. Romanian officers were present and were received with great applause. These officers soon will go to the Piave front to fight in the Italian army."

"Yesterday we obtained a great victory," said Gen. Diaz message, "owing to the extreme pressure of our troops and the continuous fire of the artillery and airplanes, the enemy after having desperately clung for eight days at the cost of appalling losses to the right bank of the Piave on the night of the 23rd began to retreat to the left bank under our terrific fire."

"The retreat continued during the entire day, protected by strong machine gun contingents and rear guard units, which, after opposing obstinate resistance were successfully overpowered by the impetus of our troops, which enveloped Montello and swept over on the entire Piave line with the exception of a short section at Mussi, where the fight continues."

EQUAL SUFFRAGE BILL
COMES UP THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, June 25.—After a conference with Pres't Wilson at the white house late Monday, a delegation of senators supporting the house resolution for submission to the states of a federal suffrage constitutional amendment, predicted that the resolution would be passed by the senate next Thursday. They said the president was "very enthusiastic in his support of the amendment."

The president is understood to have reiterated the belief that the suffrage resolution is an important war measure and vital in its effects both upon the country and abroad. The adoption of the resolution, the president is said to have told the senators, will prove a striking demonstration of the democracy existing in the United States.

Members of the delegation said the president feels it would be difficult for people of some foreign nations to understand rejection of an equal franchise proposal in view of the often expressed democratic war aims of this country. In most of the European nations the masses do not understand the distinctions in the United States among federal and state jurisdiction and for that reason the president is reported as believing that an adverse vote on the proposition might be misinterpreted.

American Troops
Still Active On Marne Front

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES
ON THE MARNE, June 25.—American troops on the Marne front Sunday night captured the north-western part of Belleau wood. The Americans cleared this strategic position of all Germans, captured some prisoners and took five machine guns.

The Americans now are in complete possession of the woods. The attack was begun with a heavy barrage after which the Americans went over almost immediately and smoked out the Germans, whose positions were regarded as almost impregnable. One machine gun found in a tree was operated by a pulley.
Americans troops, who have been in the front line east of St. Die, in the Vosges, since the first week of June, had an encounter Sunday night with Germans who raided the trenches. Two Americans are missing.
The Germans also carried out a raid in the Baccarat sector and some of the Americans are missing. The enemy's activities in the Toul sector have been confined to heavy shelling, in retaliation for a lively bombardment of his back areas.
